

NO TOURISTS NOW—The rampaging Red River has virtually wrecked this tourist camp outside St. Norbert in suburban Winnipeg. The buildings barely show above water. Several are afloat. (CP Photo)

Mayor G. W. Rudderham on behalf of the city, expressed "sincere and deep appreciation" of Mr. Gordon's visit. The citizens of Prince Rupert would wish him success in his responsibilities and that mutual profit would accrue as a result of his administration.

Looks To Railway
Mr. Felsenthal felt that it was a C. N. R. city and, as such, looked to the railway company for certain things that might not be expected from other organizations. He bespoke from Mr. Gordon a continuation of the original interest in and understanding of this port compatible with the original conception of Sir Charles M. Hays and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Confidence was felt here in Mr. Gordon's ability and spirit. He tendered the assistance and interest of the Chamber of Commerce in the studying of mutual problems.

One Hundred Present
L. M. Felsenthal, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, presided over the proceedings which were attended by over 100 local citizens. Mr. Gordon was introduced by J. T. Harvey who referred to the pre-eminent qualifications of the new Canadian National Railways head for that highly responsible post. There was confidence that he would be fully capable of meeting "the challenging problem of transportation," the solution of which would be felt all over Canada as well as to this great western terminal point.

Ald. T. B. Black, representing as a moment of his visit here. Grace was asked by C. A. Berner at opening of the dinner.

Inspect Property At
Prior to the dinner Mr. Gordon spent several hours visiting the company's facilities and meeting employees here.

Short Season Is Indicated
PETERSBURG, Alaska (P)—If halibut landings here are any indication of those at other Alaska ports, it will be a short season. That was the opinion of
