Very welcome news has been received by Ted Applewhaite, Liberal candidate for Skeena in the federal election, that the Minister of Mines and Resources at Ottawa has ratified the cost to build the Tidelake road to the Morris Summit mine in the Portland Canal area. A maximum of $70,000 is set for the Dominion's share.

The announcement is one of the most important and gratifying items of news received for Stewart in some time and should put new heart into the mining industry in the Portland Canal District.

The other two-thirds of the cost of building the road, will be shared equally between the provincial government and the
