British Columbia Mines Produce NEW Wealth

You know what the mining industry means to British Columbia and to you as a citizen of the Province? In 1943 the mines of British Columbia produced new wealth to the value of $112,000,000. $32,000,000 was paid in salaries and wages to over 10,000 people directly employed in the industry. $13,000,000 was spent for process supplies and $10,000,000 was spent on plant and equipment. The mines paid $16,000,000 in Federal taxes, $4,000,000 in provincial and municipal taxes and $1,250,000 for workmen's compensation, including silicosis and unemployment insurance. The men employed in the industry consumed over $10,000,000 worth of food. A dollar of new wealth taken out of the ground produced about five dollars business activity for the country. Every person in British Columbia benefits from the new wealth created by our mining industry.

MORNING BLAST

their investigation of the explosion.

Occupants of the house, who were all asleep, were Mrs. Fanny White, who rents rooms in the residence, her son, George White, William Jefferson and Mrs. Clara Gurvich.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

So extensive was the damage to the structure that City Engineer Don Stewart has declared it dangerous for human occupancy. Sewage service was destroyed when the explosion broke a soil pipe near the corner of the building.

Greatest force of the explosion struck the kitchen where the south wall was torn away from the floor and furniture hurled about and broken.

Mrs. White said that a quantity of preserved fruit stored under the building had been smashed as well as many dishes in a pantry adjoining the kitchen.

Knowing desperately that he was at the mercy of a wounded grizzly he worked at the grummed works of his gun and knew he should have cleaned it when it came off the saddle after the long trek through the rainy woods.

Not knowing his advantage the grizzly made for the woods and when he was safely inside of their shadow the gun in Mr. Ball's hands discharged a bullet.

The grizzly did not return again. Next day the hunt was taken up but all that was found were tracks measuring more than 12 inches. "He was a big one," says George Ball, "and I'm glad he made tracks in the right direction that night or I'd have been a gone goose and no mistake."

Six-year old Frances Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Price of Port Simpson, was more frightened than hurt at 11 o'clock this morning when she ran out from the sidewalk and was nearly hit by a small Mitchell & Currie truck which was proceeding easterly along Third Avenue at the corner of Fourth Street. The child stopped up in time but fell backwards and received slight bruises in the fall. The car was stopped immediately and the driver, John Currie, Jr., reported the incident to the police.

CARD OF THANKS

May I express my sincere thanks to the following business concerns of the city which contributed so generously in helping to make my journey as representative of Prince Rupert to the Pacific National Exhibition a success: Van Meer's Studio, Wallace's Department Store, People's Store, Bill Scuby's Furs, Annette Mansell, McCutcheon's Drug Store, Brownwoods, Doms' Department Store, Sweet Sixteen, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Famous Players' Canadian Corporation Ltd. I hope that I may be a credit to such a wonderful city and such generous people. Also let me sincerely thank all those who so kindly favored me with their choice to represent the city as Miss Prince Rupert.
