Final Effort Being Made Today By The U.N. Neutrals

PARIS (CP)—Hope for a compromise settlement of the Berlin deadlock dwindled today. Argentine delegate Juan Bramuglia, president of the United Nations security council, prepared to make what may be his final round of calls on Russia and western delegates. He was to present them with a rough draft of a currency accord, a new compromise formula based on Russian and western power answers to five questions put to them earlier by Bramuglia.

DISSATISFACTION WITH POLICY ON HIGHWAY EXPRESSED BY AUTO ASS'N

Prince Rupert Automobile Association is not satisfied with a statement of departmental policy in regard to the Skeena River Highway and the Port 101/2 Edward Highway as conveyed in a communication 1.50 received this week from Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, and has written to the minister, $.03\frac{1}{2}$ advising him so.
