News Closes Deal For New Equipment -- Latest Modern, Efficient Printing

Installation of New Type Setting System Part of Plant Improvement And Modernization Program

With its new building project now nearing completion, the Daily News is about to embark on another phase of plant improvement and modernization. Part of the program to provide Prince Rupert with a better newspaper produced along modern and efficient lines.

Following the visit to the city this week of Earl Ebel of Seattle, order was placed with the Ludlow Typograph Co. for a Ludlow system composing unit which is expected to have installed and operating about the end of the year.

It will be the first installation of its kind in any printing establishment north of Vancouver and decision upon the undertaking was decided upon by Publisher H. G. Perry and his associates after careful consideration of new equipment which would be desirable for the plant in its new home.

Ludlow installation will eliminate to large extent old-fashioned hand setting of larger types of composition. It will also make possible more versatility of front page dress and advertising set-up.

The new equipment will involve a financial outlay of nearly $10,000.

Light Saving Detrimental Local Children—Dr. Black

General health in the Prince Rupert Health Unit is good, Dr. D. McC. Black, director, said in an inspection of interior points. Cedarvale, has been under more direct observation than other points, had shown a marked improvement in the late spring inspection. Dr. Black laid that to the shift to standard time and the earlier arrival of darkness as fall and winter approached and the subsequent addition to the hours of sleep. He is convinced, he said, that daylight saving in this northern country is detrimental to the health of children. Darkness came too late as it was, without adding an extra hour.

Dental trouble is still prevalent in the district, Dr. Black said. His examination covered grade one and four pupils. He is leaving Sunday for Hazelton, Kispiox and Kitwanga, where he will carry on further inspections in the schools and help co-ordinate the health survey now under way.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. William Hubenet, southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, is due in port at 3 o'clock this morning from Skagway and will sail south at 5 p.m.

Rich Ore Find— Stewart Mine Looking Good

STEWART—Ore samples from the Gold Drop mine, which has made a new strike, suggest that another property of potential importance has been found in the Portland Canal district. The ore is said to be similar to that which was originally found in the Premier with gold rather than silver predominating.

J. O. LeFrancis, managing engineer, reports that, of six channel samples which were taken, the average value was $130 per ton. One sample assayed as high as $112 in gold, $56.14 in silver, $28.07 in lead and $21.04 in zinc. A vein 70 feet long and three feet wide has been exposed.

The property, on which Montreal interests have so far spent $60,000 in development, is situated in the Marmot River zone, half a mile away from Marmot dock. The same company owns the Mountain Boy property.

Truman arrived on this tiny western Pacific Island, 2300 miles from Honolulu, for his momentous conference with General Douglas MacArthur on measures to combat the threat of Communism in the Far East. (The time of the President's arrival was shortly before noon Pacific Standard Time.)

General MacArthur had arrived from Tokyo a few hours earlier and was on hand to greet "The Chief."

Both Truman and MacArthur flew here.

Gordon Boosts Savings Bonds

MONTREAL—All officers and employees of the Canadian National Railways system were urged to invest in the fifth series of Canada Savings Bonds which go on sale next Monday in a message issued by Donald Gordon, C.M.G., chairman and president.

"Our personal welfare and the welfare of our country are both served when we invest in Canada Savings Bonds," said Mr. Gordon. "I strongly recommend that all officers and employees of the Canadian National system take advantage of the opportunity. In previous years many of us have purchased bonds for cash but the most popular way of saving is through the company's payroll deduction plan. The same arrangement will be available this year and foresight impels all of us not only to save as much as we can but to save systematically."

Responding To Health Survey

The public is co-operating well in the Canada-wide sickness survey now being conducted, according to a statement by Dr. D. McC. Black, director of Prince Rupert Health Unit.

He said that at first there was a little reluctance on the part of the housewives to take onto themselves the extra burden of keeping track of all minor illnesses and accidents but, when the idea and importance of the survey to the general health of the Dominion was explained, they gave their full support. All families under survey in this district have received their initial visit, he said.

Korea Has Helped World Peace But Churchill Sounds Warning

BLACKPOOL (CP)—Conservative Leader Winston Churchill said today that recent United Nations successes in Korea "must not lull us into a sense of false security."

"What has happened in Korea has set world peace on a stronger foundation. There may be time now to build up a European army with strong aid from Britain, United States and Canada."

Mr. Churchill addressed the closing session of the Conservative party's annual convention.

Thomas M. Christie returned to the city on this afternoon's plane from a business trip to Vancouver.

Practice By Red Cross

Operation Mercy To Be Staged In Prince Rupert At Later Date

VANCOUVER — Fires and explosions, all imaginary, yesterday flashed across British Columbia but Red Cross branches responded like veteran campaigners.

Results of "Operation Mercy," planned to test the mobility and organization of 40 Red Cross branches, were termed "very satisfactory" by officials in charge.

(Owing to the present state of local Red Cross organization yesterday's provincial practice did not extend to Prince Rupert but it is planned to have one here shortly.)

Off To Winnipeg Hospital Meeting

Douglas Stevenson left by today's plane for Winnipeg where he will attend the Institute of Western Canada Hospital Administrators. Lasting one week, it is a post-graduate course in hospital administration. Top-ranking authorities from Canada and the United States will give lectures, combined with field work, in hospitals where problems similar to those in local institutions arise.

The following week Mr. Stevenson will attend the B.C. Hospital convention in Vancouver. Discussions are expected to revolve around the hospital insurance plan as it affects local hospitals.

Special Meet For Natives

Word was received by Frank Calder, M.L.A., this morning that there would be a special convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia November 10 to discuss Bill 267, the bill to amend the Indian Act. The information did not name the meeting place, but Mr. Calder thinks it is apt to be at Alert Bay.

A lot of organizations have been taking an interest in the bill, Mr. Calder said, and have been discussing it. The Public Affairs Institute planned sessions from now until the time it comes before Parliament again.

Last Ditch Resistance Is Stiffer

TOKYO — There seems no question that the Korean war is in its final stages, said Major General Hobart R. Gay, commanding officer of United States First Cavalry, today.

TOKYO — While United Nations forces closed their steel clamp on 20,000 North Korean Communists just about the 38th parallel, one South Korean spearhead lunged to within 50 miles of the Red capital of Pyongyang today. Although advances were continued, official reports today stated that enemy opposition was stiffening north of the parallel.

A development of the past two days, only reported today, was of two commando raids by the British Royal Marines.

The Canadian destroyers Athabaskan and Cayuga were among the Allied warships which participated in this week's seaborne strike against North Korean targets and supply lines this week. The third Canadian warship—HMCS Sioux—has been in action on the east coast.

There was a general drought of reports on ground action today following announcement that United States First Cavalry Division had captured Kumchon on the southeastern approaches to the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Kumchon is 70 air miles from Pyongyang.

Major General Hobart R. Gay, commanding officer of the First Cavalry, said that spearheads had smashed eight miles north of Kumchon to Hanpo on the main escape route of the Reds.

"The trap is closed," Gay said. "They will not get out any tanks, guns or vehicles."

The American push toward Pyongyang is supported by United Nations air cover and followed by British and Australian troops.

The South Korean First Corps pounded north along the coast from captured Wonsan toward the big chemical centre of Hamhung and west to form another spearhead toward Pyongyang.

The British commandos, in weird war paint and heavily armed, made their two daring raids on North Korea's east coast only 65 miles from Siberia. The commandos, going ashore in rubber boats from a United States destroyer, were reported to have destroyed two bridges and a tunnel in lightning hit-and-run raids.

THE WEATHER

A very weak disturbance crossed the Queen Charlottes this morning and is moving slowly across northern Vancouver Island. This disturbance should reach the south coast this evening. Rain in the southern interior has become intermittent and should become showery this afternoon and stop by evening.
