MEET ON WAGES

Council and Civic Workers to Get Together

City Council and the Civic Employees' Union will get together in the near future for final settlement of wages and working conditions for "outside" city employees. The settlement, agreed in principle several weeks ago, has been hanging fire until receipt of a copy of the agreement existing between Vancouver and its outside workers.

Basic of the agreement was that Prince Rupert's outside workers are to receive the same pay schedules and working conditions as those of Vancouver. The settlement was held up until a copy of the agreement reached the city.

A copy of the Vancouver agreement was received by city council here last night and a committee appointed by Mayor Arnold to meet the negotiating committee of the union.

Chairman of the committee is Alderman George Rudderham and other members are Alderman W. F. Stone and J. R. Morin. They were constituted as a "grievance" committee which will sit to adjust differences with civic employees for the balance of the year.

The Vancouver agreement lists holidays granted to civic workers and schedules of pay for various types of employees.

Other branches of the civic employees concluded agreements earlier this year.

Go quickly by a simple method that dissolves them. Get two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist, apply with a wet cloth gently over the blackheads and you will wonder where they have gone.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Are there any special hours for informal and formal weddings?

A. No; a wedding may be held at any hour the bride and bridegroom find most convenient. In most communities, noon or four o'clock are the most popular hours, while in other communities eight in the evening is a favorite hour. There is really no rule, except local custom plus personal preference.

Q. If one has been compelled to decline a dinner invitation, should one make a call later?

A. Yes; this is the proper and courteous thing to do.

Q. Should the fingers or the fork be used to convey olives and radishes to the mouth?

A. The fingers, by all means.

Miss H. M. O'Neill and Miss M. A. Haight of the nursing staff of Charles Cammell Hospital at Edmonton sailed by the Princess Adelaide last night for Vancouver en route back to the Alberta Capital after having been relieving on the staff of Miller Bay Hospital here.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.I.

The man who invented "Juniper Junction," "Birds' Eye Centre" and other comic strips died recently. The Toronto Star and Montreal Standard will miss him. So will millions of readers, old and young. To be able to make others laugh, not because they are supposed to, but because they want to, is a precious gift. If certain dreary kill-joys had their way, probably "the funnies" would be abolished. That's one of the things wrong with the world today. Don't pull too wide a grin. Someone will become suspicious.
