

STUDENT DANCE ON HALLOWE'EN

The students of Bo-Me-Hi took time out last night to celebrate October 31 with a grand Halloween Party and Dance at the Civic Centre. The affair which attracted more than 200 of the students and their guests was arranged by the School Council chairman Arnold Olsen.

The more popular games of the evening included the old favorites of apple dunking and apple on the string contests which produced many a good laugh, even for the well washed winners.

The highlight of the evening, however was the old time dance numbers which were enjoyed by everyone present. Numbers included Frenca minuet, Virginia Reel, called by J. Evans, the Schottische, Rabbit Dance, and Home Waltz. The formal dress for the evening was blue jeans and shirts or sweaters.

Chairman of Committees were: Gerry Procter Programme; Judy Nilson, Decoration; Ray Hunter, refreshments Edith Johnson, records, and Arnold Olson, Master of Ceremonies. About 16 teachers of the High School were invited to attend by the School Council.

But beyond that, Shearing has a creative imagination that enables him to weave a melodic pattern out of bop's tangled chords. His shading often suggests the influence of Debussy.

Shearing has gathered a pliable group around him, including Marjye Hyams on vibes; Chuck Wayne, guitar; Denzil Best, drums; and John Levy, bass. Miss Hyams and Shearing particularly team well.

The work of the Shearing combo, which gained recognition with an album for Discovery last summer, reaches full flower in a new M.G.M. release, a coupling of "East of the Sun" and "Conception."

Conrad P.-T.A. Hallowe'en Party

Members of Conrad Street Parent-Teachers Association enjoyed cards and dancing at a Hallowe'en party held Friday evening in the school basement. About 100 attended the function.

Under direction of Principal T. G. Bateman, fourteen tables of cribbage, whist and bridge were in play during the early part of the evening. Later, dancing was enjoyed, with music by Barney Christensen on the accordion.

Card winners were:

Cribbage, Miss Jean Thompson; whist, Mrs. J. Wilkinson; bridge, Mrs. L. Murdoch.

A waltz contest was won by Mr. and Mrs. D. Bertrand. T. G. Bateman acted as judge. Mrs. Helen Marchildon, who acted as cashier, also was in charge of the program of old-time dancing.

During the supper hour, M. F. Stuart conducted a series of raffles. Three wall plaques, donated by A. Desautels, were won by C. E. Carlson. Three plastic fish decorations, also donated by Mr. Desautels, were won by P. Downing.

Refreshments were enjoyed during an intermission in the dancing. Mrs. A. Bussanich was in charge of the serving. Servers were Mrs. N. Webb, Mrs. H. M. Harper, Mrs. R. Johnson, Mrs. I. Thompson, Mrs. L. Colussi, Mrs. S. Ballinger and Mrs. W. McLean.

the ensemble is restrained and integrated throughout. "Conception" is a Shearing riff original on the upbeat, with the Hyams-Shearing unison work outstanding.

Bop may gain some converts with this one.

COMPANIES ARE BLAMED

WASHINGTON D. C.—Marjice J. Tobin, secretary of labor for the United States, blamed the steel companies for the strike which was paralyzing the industry of the country. Steel company executives, Tobin said, had no moral basis for opposition to company paid pensions. Workers had as much right to such pensions as did the executives who received them, he declared.

BOP IS NEW U.S. MUSIC

HOLLYWOOD — One of the genuine artists at work in the field of advanced bebopery is a 29-year-old blind British pianist, George Shearing.

Bop to most folks is generally too frenetic and frantic to make much musical sense. Especially in big-band scoring. Whatever future bop may have would seem to rest with the smaller groups, such as Shearing's quintet.

The young Briton, in the United States since 1947, has rapidly established himself as a 1947 technician ready to take his place with Art Tatum, Teddy Wilson and Mel Powell. For sheer finger dexterity, Shearing may yet top
