Local Couple Are Married
 Miss Elizabeth Pearl Menzies and Leslie Arnold Brown, well known local couple, were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony which took place at 7:30 Saturday evening in the Manse of First Presbyterian Church with Rev. E. A. Wright officiating. Only a few friends and relatives were in attendance at the marriage rites although many attended a reception which followed in the Valhalla Hall.
 The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a pale blue afternoon dress and carried a corsage of red carnations.
 The bridesmaid was Miss Ethel Knutson who wore a red rose afternoon dress and a corsage of yellow carnations.

FRENCH BOXER WINS BY TKO
 MONTREAL — Laurent Daubuille of France last night earned the right to take a crack at Jake Lamotta's middleweight crown as he swept New York's Steve Belloise with a seventh round technical knockout in a scheduled 10-round bout. Referee Tommy Sullivan halted the one-sided affair just after the start of the seventh round.
 Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in Prince Rupert. The groom is an electrician on celanese plant construction.

LURE FOR B.E. GAMES—Vancouver thinks she holds a powerful hand when it comes to bidding for the 1954 British Empire Games. This is a layout of part of the University of British Columbia grounds. New stands are to be built surrounding the track. A new gymnasium, bottom, also is being built. (CP Photo)

School Program Cited in Ohio
 OTTAWA—Seven of 28 awards for excellence in radio programs were awarded to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The results were announced yesterday. National Broadcasting Co. received ten awards, Columbia seven, and Mutual, four.
 Canada won for religious, cultural, drama, public affairs, educational and children's programs.
 CBC shares honors with the British Columbia Department of Education for their program "My Neighbor and Me," which was cited as "radio performing a unique service for the classroom teacher in the field of human relations, where help is desperately needed." The series of six programs written by Rita Greer and produced by Robert Allen from CBC, Vancouver. The director of school broadcasts, P. J. Kitley, says the response from high schools was most enthusiastic.

Wildcats are risky

To an oil man a "wildcat" is a well drilled in an area where oil has never been found. Drilling a wildcat is a risky undertaking and a costly one. Some wells have cost more than a million dollars—and have not been successful.

For that reason oil men make as certain as they can, before drilling, that there is a good chance of finding oil. They use the most modern instruments and skills to locate each drilling site; but still the odds are 20 to one against them. Only about one wildcat in 20 becomes a producer.

Over the past 30 years oil men have worked continuously against these odds. In western Canada Imperial alone drilled 134 wells—all dry—before the Leduc field was discovered in 1947.

But the end result has been new oil for Canada and benefits for Canadians. There are thousands of new jobs. Millions of U.S. dollars are being saved as the need for imported oil lessens. And, as another natural resource moves toward full development, the Canadian standard of living climbs higher.

These are real benefits to Canadians and they will increase as more oil is found. But to find more oil and to spread the advantages it brings, oil men must continue to work against long odds.

Sometimes a job that must be done can't be done without great risks.

Bringing you oil is a big job ... and a costly one

About Canada's Oil—Canada's proven oil reserves now amount to about one billion barrels, as compared with only 72 million barrels in 1946.

It is estimated the oil industry will spend $150 millions for exploration and development in western Canada this year.

Last year Imperial drilled or shared in the drilling of 70 wildcat wells.

Wells drilled by Imperial to find and produce oil in Canada during 1949 totalled 231 miles in depth.
