A.O.T.S. Group Discuss Projects at Second Meeting

Despite that excellent work being done by the service clubs of the city and by the Civic It Don't Mean a Thing = Centre to provide recreational facilities for the youth of Prince If it ain't got that Swing Rupert, outdoor activities are still rather limited, according to Crawford Moore who spoke during a project discussion at the second dinner meeting of the A.O.T.S. group held last night in the United Church

> Mr. Moore spoke particularly labout swimming and skating, suggesting the A.O.T.S. group might consider making the Salt Lakes more suitable for those who enjoy swimming in the summer and skating during the > cold spells of winter. The meeting felt that Mr. Moore's suggestion and those made by several others at the meeting should be tabled until the group receives its charter. When the A.O.T.S. has the official recognition of the parent body, committees will be appointed to look into the various requirements of the community. As an example of what the A.O.T.S. groups are doing in and Miss Travis is expected to arrive in the city Sunday night and will hold her first class for women Monday afternoon. The first men's class will be held Monday night. Classes for both groups will be held from Monday to Friday for two weeks. With the background of training received during the spring course, a men's hobby group will be added to the adult activities at the Civic Centre next season. Organization work is to be done by Bruce McCallum and it is expected that a boys' hobby group will develop simultaneously.

To date, about 20 have paid the $2 enrolment fee for the classes. Large supplies of leather are on hand. The plan is to begin with small objects such as change purses and key cases. then progress to larger objects such as wallets, book ends, belts, brief cases or ladies' purses.
