WEST AFRICA EXPERIENCES

With some sixty members attending, the Women's Canadian Club met in the Common Lounge of the Civic Centre Wednesday evening to hear an interesting address by Rev. Charles Lomas of the Anglican Church mission boat Northern Cross. The speaker was introduced by the vice-president, Mrs. T. J. Boulier, who occupied the chair in the absence of president Mrs. F. N. Eve. Mr. Lomas spoke of his experiences as a missionary in the Cameroons, West Africa where he was stationed for twelve years and where, during the Second World War, he served as an army padre. Into this very small area are crowded 22 million people whose customs and superstitions are difficult for the white man to understand. The natives are polygamists, it being customary to have at least four wives. They are of a cruel disposition, especially in their treatment of cattle and beasts of burden. Incidents related, humorous as well as serious, illustrated the extreme range of temperament of these people. "Whereas we keep a fairly steady average of good or bad," the speaker said. "They go the limit both ways." Transportation is of a primitive nature and drums, the "jungle telegraph," are still relied upon for communication between villages in this part of the dark continent known as the "Edge of Beyond." A hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Mrs. D. McD. Hunter. A short business session, in which routine club matters were discussed, preceded Mr. Lomas' address.

CITADEL TEA WELL ATTENDED

Fall flowers and Salvation Army colors set the atmosphere for the annual fall tea and sale held by the Salvation Army Home League Tuesday afternoon in the Citadel and the attendance made it one of the most successful in years. Handwork of league members netted $238.

Convenor of the function was Mrs. W. Yurgensen, while Major Mrs. Warrander, wife of the Divisional Commander, opened the sale. Mrs. Warrander and Senior Capt. Mrs. Chambers acted as pourers.

Serviteurs were Joyce Scherk, Virginia Clark, Joan Ryan and Rose Collison. Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Smith were in charge of the kitchen.

Gaily decorated stalls were popular and provided a variety of articles for purchase. The fancy work stall was in charge of Mrs. V. Garten and Miss Connie Patterson while the knitted goods booth was directed by Mrs. W. Waksdale and Mrs. A. Scherk. Mrs. Eveligh and Mrs. C. K. Yreberg were in charge of the home cooking booth.

One of the most attractive stalls was that sponsored by the Native Girls' Hostel which was decorated with two totem poles and provided candy and a large variety of items. Mrs. Chambers was in charge and was assisted by Dolores Jones, Gloria Moran and Norah Enockson. Cashier was Mrs. C. Carlsen. Members of the committee included Mrs. G. Marshall, Mrs. Rudolph, Mrs. Tenner, Mrs. Timms and Mrs. A. Van Pykstra.

LITTLE THEATRE DRESS REHEARSAL

Wednesday night's dress rehearsal was an indication of the popularity of the Little Theatre Association's presentation for Friday evening. The two-act comedy "Hot Water" is a hilarious farce from beginning to end. A well-to-do football hero and the family's unknown guest, arrives on the scene along with a plumber and there is an immediate case of mistaken identities. The guest playing the part of the plumber and the plumber in a reverse role brings one complication after another. Local actors taking part in this production, under the direction of W. D. Griffiths, are Helen Marchildon, Kathleen Kerr, Nina Youngman, Harley Lewis, John Jenkins, Mel Shalmerud, Eileen McClintock, Edith A. Black, and Rev. Basil Procter.

FOOD PARCELS MEAN MUCH

Among the brightest spots in the drab life of the English people today are the food parcels which Canadians are sending to the Old Country, according to Harry W. Birch, retired secretary of Prince Rupert General Hospital, who is back in the city after 18 months in his native country. "Things are grim there. The food situation is terrible," he said. "All you hear is 'export, export, export.' Everybody is sick of hearing the word." Inability of the English people to purchase their own products was illustrated by Mr. Birch when he told of an attempt to purchase some tea biscuits. "They were absolutely unobtainable, until I decided to write a friend in Victoria. He arranged to buy them as a food gift and they were readily delivered by the Huntley and Palmer people. "The purchase had to be made through someone in Canada. Englishmen can't buy them." Mr. Birch, who was secretary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital for more than 20 years, is visiting here prior to settling somewhere in the south. Just where he will make his future home, he has not yet decided.
