Reminiscences

By W. J. — and REFLECTIONS

Breakfasting up - river recently, with a motorist from Ketchikan, conversation finally drifted around to highways, road-building, the state of the nation and all that sort of thing.

"I can see a tremendous traffic along here, in time," he remarked. "It's too bad as things are now, though. Lots of us in Alaska don't even know there is a highway along the Skeena."

So, Prince Rupert publicity hounds, go to it once more!

The Minister of Finance, Friday, had a few remarks, addressed to owners of houses for rent. But there was nothing particularly comforting. If he should want to occupy his own property, he can, after six months' notice, approach the problem by undertaking to evict the tenant with some hope of success. Landlords know something about headaches.

The name of the famed German composer, Bach, is frequently heard mentioned in broadcast announcements at Prince Rupert. Which reminds one of the sweet young thing who said to Sullivan of the Gilbert and Sullivan team:

"Tell me! Is Bach still composing? His music is divine."

Bach died more than a century ago.

"No Madame," said Sullivan. "He is decomposing."

Register now, should you wish to vote in the municipal election next December. If you have a ballot, cast it. Anything is better than indifference. Before you can vote, it's necessary to do a bit of thinking, which is good for you. Mental exercise never hurts. One can become sluggish, that way, as well as physically.

Civic election day in Prince Rupert will be Thursday, December 16. So it will all be over and done with before Christmas and New Year. The vote used to be in January. In the early days, part of one year was devoted to discussing the approaching polling. Much of the following year was spent trying to explain how it happened.

REGINA — A Regina Capitals official said that left winger Hermie Gruhn had left the Western Canada Junior Hockey League club to play for Vancouver Canucks. He had signed a three-year contract with his old club without notifying the Caps.
