SATURDAY SERMON

"FISHERS OF MEN"

By Rev. F. Antrobus (First Baptist Church)

Many years ago the Abyssinians took a British subject and consigned him to a dungeon in the fortress of Magdala. It took Great Britain six months to discover this and she demanded his release which King Theodore refused. Ten thousand soldiers were burning sun up mountain heights to the dungeon where the prisoner was hid. They fought, tore down the gates and released the prisoner. It cost the British government a quarter of a million pounds to release that man but such was the value placed upon the life and liberty of one British subject.

God puts a great price upon the soul of one sinner, the priceless and precious blood of Jesus Christ, His Son. It demanded the mobilization of all the forces of the Godhead to rescue man from the dungeon of sin. God the Father's love, God the Son's sacrifice, and God the Holy Spirit's power are united in this great work of salvation. John Wesley and a friend were walking down the street of a certain city when they passed a man, dead drunk, who had fallen into the gutter. The friend made some lighting remark but Wesley said: "But for the grace of God, there lies John Wesley" and helped the man.

God has done all that He can do to provide for man's redemption, in giving us His Son. He has committed unto us the task of seeking out others to bring them to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ by means of the Gospel. God has shut the church up to this one supreme task. She has nothing to do but save souls.

Now am I as a Christian to give myself to this great task and become a fisher of men as Jesus bade His disciples to be? We must follow Him. We must learn the secret of daily abiding in Him, which means daily private prayer and daily private Bible reading and obedience to His will.

One muggy summer day in the early 1700's, a young German count strode leisurely into the art galleries of Dusseldorf. He studied the paintings one by one but none left a lasting impression on him until he came to Stenberg's portrayal of the crucifixion of Christ. Here he stood reverently a minute, then two. His eye moved to the inscription below the painting. Over and over again he read:

"What have I done for thee,

"What hast thou done for me?" When he left the gallery, he carried with him a new purpose in life, for the count went out with a burning passion to serve Christ as never before and all Europe felt the effect. He was Nicolaus Ludwig, Count of Zinzendorf, the justice of Dresden. Even today modern missionaries remember Zinzendorf, and his Moravians for starting the "Go-ye-into-all-the-world" ball rolling again.

We shall find the secret where he found it. O Lord, fire us too with the same passion in place of our coldness, complacency, and powerlessness and make us fishers of men!

Session Nears End

ACTIVITIES in Canada's parliament have been stepped up this week as members look forward to completing the nation's business this weekend. The session has produced less excitement and "fireworks" than was predicted at its opening.

One of the highlights of the session was a clarification of Canada's position in the United Nations and in world affairs. Perhaps never before has such unity been achieved in Canada as was shown in parliament on our policy in external affairs. Three important principles seem to underlie the policy which has the support of the large majority of Canadians and the largest political parties. These are (1) Our membership as an independent nation in the British Commonwealth of Nations. (2) Friendship and co-operation for the general good with our "good neighbor" the United States of America. (3) Acceptance of our full responsibility as a member of the United Nations in an all-out effort to preserve world peace.

Canada's membership in the British Commonwealth does not mean that our people or our government agree in every detail with the foreign policies of Great Britain or the United States. It does mean that almost all Canadians recognize that our interests are closely bound to the welfare of those two great nations.

U. S. CAMPAIGN

CANADIANS are watching closely the election campaign of our neighboring country. Whether justified or not, the Republican leaders feel that they are sure to win the presidential vote which takes place in November of this year. Then Thomas Dewey would be the chief executive.

Truman is considered almost a certainty as the candidate of the Democrats in spite of some opposition within the party. Known to many Canadians, and considered to be a good friend of our country, he will find many, perhaps most Canadians, wishing him a success which few seem to predict at this time.

The socialist party of the United States has made little or no progress and is not expected to poll more than 2 or 3 percent of the vote even if supported by the communists.

TALKING OF TREES

TREES ARE A CROP
—Just like peas, or potatoes, or peaches, or pumpkins, trees are a product of the soil. Fortunately, they do not demand a rich soil but grow well on low-quality sites unsuitable for agriculture. British Columbia has millions of acres of soil suitable only for tree-growing. Trees are our most valuable crop.

I WANT TO KNOW...

Does a Mother need insurance?
Unless a husband and father is very well-to-do his wife should have her own insurance policy. If a mother dies when there are no funds available to pay a housekeeper, the home may be broken up and the children put out for adoption or sent to relatives.
The answer is, "Yes, a mother needs life insurance."
