Campaign Part Won

IT APPEARS THAT the campaign which has been waged for some time with a view to having radio broadcasting service from Prince Rupert improved by the omission from the local station CFPR of full Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network programs is about to be rewarded with success. The minister of transport has sent word that the National Hockey Broadcast will be released on Saturday evenings as soon as the permission of the sponsors is obtained and it is being hoped that that will be as early as tonight. And Mr. Chevrier has also indicated that release of the full network program may not be so far removed although it is still in the "pending" stage.

So far, so good—the releasing of the CBC network programs, which, whether or not we may like them all, have been given a rating in excellence of quality unsurpassed anywhere in America, will be the best the CBC can do for Prince Rupert in the way of National programming and we are appreciative of that. There is also the question of the interior communities such as Terrace, Hazelton, Smithers, Burns Lake and the rest which will not be helped a great deal from Prince Rupert. The solution for them, as appealed for in a resolution at the last Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia in Smithers last summer, was the setting up of repeater stations which would meet the needs of those areas which have long suffered from inadequate if not almost entire absence of service.

Prince Rupert can well be thankful and appreciative of what it is getting but it cannot be entirely satisfied until something has been done in the way of a like public service for the wide open spaces in the hinterland whose isolation makes it the more important that they too should get a break.

"CLIPPING THE COINAGE"

BY 1970 it won't pay to be educated says Financial Post. College graduates will learn less than manual laborers; frustration and disappointment will be the lot of a great many of them.

So says Seymour Harris, Harvard teacher, in his new book "The Market for College Graduates."

His argument is that by 1970 there will be about four times as many living graduates as there were in 1940; that most will aspire to jobs in the professions; that there won't be nearly enough room to accommodate them.

Presumably we're supposed to be very sad about this situation. Our tears refuse to come.

The reason: A goodly percentage of college graduates will do better at manual than at intellectual work.

Canada's college population in 1921 was 22,000. Now it's over 90,000.

The universities, most of them dependent on government financial aid and most of them infected with the 20th century mania for bigness, have so "clipped the coinage," made the attainment of a degree so easy that they regurgitate a great rabble which includes a lot of people whose claim to intellectual capacity is, to say the least, small.

The idea that a college graduate can think, can think straight and can be a better, happier citizen than other people is under the present university system just a superstition.

Some day we hope some university will bring distinction to itself by forgetting about the aim of growing big in numbers and by focusing on quality.

The present policy of graduating hordes, fills too many youths, maidens and parents with delusions, which inevitably cause waste and grief in later years.

CHORAL GROUP APPRECIATED

The director, Raymond V. Haldane, offered as a Vocal Solo "The Lost Chord."

Throughout the concert the choir was ably accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Buchert.

Rev. J. E. Huntley introduced the choir and the program was as follows:

"The Lord's Prayer" (Mallotte) and "In That Day" (Ashford).
"Blessed Be The Lord" (Ashford) (From the Cantata, "Holy Night").

"Holy Art Thou" (Handel).

"Gloria" (From the 12th Mass) (Bordeaux).

"My Task" (Ashford).

"Sanctus" (Gottod).

Vocal Solo, "The Lost Chord" Raymond V. Haldane.

Men's Chorus—"Were You There When They Crucified My Lord."

"The Glory of The Lord" Handel's "Messiah".

"Lift Up Your Heads" (Handel's "Messiah").

"Hallelujah Chorus" (Handel's "Messiah").

"Worthy Is The Lamb, Amen" (Handel's "Messiah").

During the concert some of the singers had to share music for much of their music was destroyed when their church was burned, just recently. This church had been consecrated on Christmas Day, 1895 and was destroyed just a week before Christmas of 1949.

After the concert there was a very happy reunion of these visitors from Alaska and their many friends who had gathered to hear them sing.

SATURDAY SERMON

LIFT UP HIS STANDARD!
(Rev. Fred Antrobus, First Baptist Church)

"When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him." Isaiah 59:19.

There are two persons in this quotation, the 'enemy', and the 'Spirit of the Lord'. The world of nature is attractive, as the hymn-writer says, "where every prospect pleases, and only man is vile". The world of people, as the apostle Paul said, 'lieth in the wicked one'. It is apart from God, and evil, and in many obvious respects, that evil seems to be on the increase.

Now the Church of Jesus Christ is a group of those who are 'called out' of the world, in the sense that they forsake its evil ways and, by trusting the Lord Jesus Christ, for salvation, they have become 'sons of God'. Christians are thus to forsake the things of this evil world but yet geographically speaking to remain in it, and seek to bring others from its darkness to His light, and from the power of Satan unto God.

The world, therefore, as it is, is an enemy of God and back of it is Satan, that wicked one. How shall the spirit of the Lord lift up a standard against the enemy? I believe one answer to that question is this: He will do so through His own people, the Christians in the world; He will do it through His Church, where that Church is faithful and obedient to Him.

The standard, lifted up, will be one of righteousness, of righteous, holy living on the part of each one who is loyal to Jesus Christ and, therefore, has the Spirit of the Lord living within his own heart, as the Scripture says. The characteristics of a Christian man are given in various places in Scripture; Matt. 5:3-12, and Gal 5:22,23. I could wish for the gospel's sake, that the evangelicals were more loving and desired each other's fellowship more, instead of adopting the monastic ideas of exclusiveness which hinders the growth of His Kingdom.

It is true, that, if you live this kind of Christian life, people will not flock to the Standard in great numbers, but some will come, and believe on His Name. You must make your Christian living as attractive and loving as possible, without compromise of course.

This brings me to another thought about the Standard and here we cannot be exhaustive. Two or three matters will suffice to show the principle involved. I refer to the misuse of the Lord's Day for one matter. We are taught to remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Now the world is constantly working to make Sabbath laws more easy. What should the Church do? If we go along with the world, a little here and a little there, we may save our faces for a moment, but we shall miss our function, of lifting up the standards of God's Word. These may be 'modern times. The age may be 'more enlightened' but it is the same old world, estranged from God. It matters not what the world may think or say, whether the majority agree, or some nominal Christian want to let down the bars or not. We have a standard to uphold for His Name's sake.

I refer also in this same connection to the divorce laws of our time. Many are the subtle arguments forwarded as reasons why divorce laws should be eased. Yet Jesus our Lord said there was only one cause for divorce, not many or any. And He is our righteousness. We cannot be governed by what men want nor what the evil desires of men dictate.

When Jesus said "Thou shalt not commit adultery", He was setting forth the sacredness of marriage, through which the race is to be propagated and trained—Matt. 5:21-48. He was speaking from the flaming heart of purity, loving the children, taking care of succeeding generations. God's first circle of society is not the church, but the family; and races are made or unmade, as the family is made or unmade. The Church should not cater to the demands of men, but be loyal to her Master. So my Christian friends, may the Spirit of the Lord find in us, those through whom He can show forth God's standard of righteousness to the world. Many will be brought to know the Father that way.

Gordon Speaks On Service Cut
MONTREAL—The action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in ordering an emergency cut in passenger train service on United States railways indicates the far-reaching effect on rail transportation of the labor situation in the mines in the United States," Donald Gordon, President of the Canadian National Railways, said here.

"As the Canadian public are aware, the C.N.R. management issued on December 28, with great regret, an announcement that it might be necessary to cut passenger train services over the whole of the Canadian National system on January 9 in order to conserve coal.

"Our coal reserves have been seriously depleted by the strike in United States mines followed by short work weeks in those mines. We remained hopeful however, that our coal situation would improve sufficiently to allow us to rescind the planned cut in passenger train service, but, unfortunately, that has not yet taken place. When it does, we will promptly restore any cuts that may have been made. At the present time, in the interests of public convenience, it has been decided not to go beyond the 25 percent reduction in passenger train service already announced and given out, in detail for Monday, January 9. This decision has been taken after reviewing most carefully any advantages that might accrue through following at this time the formula of the Interstate Commerce Commission today's plan for a trip to Vancouver for a 33 1/2 percent reduction in passenger train service on U.S. railway lines.

"We have been gratified by the action of the C.N.R. as our principal supplier of coal in the Maritime provinces, in undertaking to supply us this month with an additional 20,000 tons of suitable locomotive fuel to be delivered at the rate of 5,000 tons a week. This action is particularly timely as it is directed to relieving the inevitable apprehension we have felt as coal supplies dwindled that a still further cut in train services might be necessary. We will be able to continue both a day and a night train between Montreal and Halifax. We have now arranged that the evening train from Montreal and the morning train from Halifax will be a combination of the sleeping car equipment of the Ocean Limited together with the day coaches and other cars of the Scotian. So far as the Scotian is concerned, it will run on the Scotian time. The Maritime Express will be continued on its present schedule.

"Meanwhile," said Mr. Gordon, "we are continuing to take all suitable coal we can from the Maritimes, from Alberta, or from the United States and move it westward and eastward to the best possible advantage."

Miss Bea Rudderham left on today's plane for a trip to Vancouver.
