

Honeymoon at World Series

Miss Ruth Jacobsen and Alek Bill United at Beautiful Church Wedding

St. Paul's Lutheran Church was the scene of one of the city's most beautiful weddings Thursday evening at 7:30 when at a candle-lit ceremony Ruth Eleanor, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacobsen of Wayne, Alberta, became the bride of Alek Samuel, eldest son of Mrs. Sam Bill and the late Sam Bill of this city.

To the strains of "Because," Miss Mardell Soiland and Miss Sonja Selvig proceeded to the altar with lighted candles with which they then lit the candles at the altar.

The bride, a graduate of Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary, Alberta, was given in marriage by Jack Lindsay. She was beautiful in a heavy ice blue satin gown fashioned on Princess lines and a long full train. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline inset with Chantilly lace and cap sleeves with matching elbow-length gloves. The headpiece was a shield cap fashioned of the same material as her gown and the bridal veil was made up of two lengths — shoulder and hip length. Her only ornament was an opal pendant and her bouquet was of gardenias and baby pink rosebuds.

Preceding the bride were the bridesmaids. First came the bride's sister, Grace Jacobsen of Calgary, who wore a gown of rich velvet of a striking midnight blue. Her headpiece was a skull cap of the same material from which flowed a chapel length veil of the same shade. Her bouquet was of pale blue carnations.

Next came the groom's sister, Millie Bill, who wore a gown of rich wine velvet and a skull cap of velvet with chapel length veil. Her bouquet was of pale pink carnations.

During the signing of the register, Miss Louise Larsen sang "O Perfect Love."

The groom's mother wore a gown of rust crepe trimmed with rhinestone beads and the accessories were of navy blue and corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Jack Lindsay, representing the bride's mother, wore a gown of turquoise blue crepe and her accessories were black with corsage of pink carnations.

The groomsmen were Nicholas John (Boyo) Gurvich and the ushers were Herb Morgan and Nick Pavlikis.

Later, a reception was held at the Canadian Legion Hall where two hundred guests were present.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Bill Scuby and was responded by the groom.

The toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by the groomsmen. Several wires were received by the young couple from as far south as Hawaii and from Alaska. They were read by the groomsmen.

A buffet supper was served. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake. On each side were pink candles. The cake was duly cut by the bride and groom.

The bride and groom sailed on the Prince George for their honeymoon which will take them to the world series baseball games.

The bride's going away outfit was a dark blue gabardine suit, the material matching that of the groom's suit. Her hat was of white feathers and trimmed with wine and blue feathers. Her accessories were wine and corsage was of gardenias and baby pink rosebuds.

The groom is a popular member of local athletic circles and the bride a popular member of the Prince Rupert General Hospital nursing staff.

Many beautiful gifts were received by them and will be on display at the home of the groom's mother for the next two days.

On their return the bride and groom will reside at their home on 1028 First Avenue.

Jack Allen, old timer in the city and war veteran, has returned to Prince Rupert, after having been out of town for most of the fishing season and packing season.

Charles O. Albins, president of the Prince George Board of Trade, paying his first visit to Prince Rupert, is impressed with the condition of the highway over which he drove here. "For a new road there is certainly nothing to complain about," he says, "but I was also impressed with the danger as it skirts the Skeena River west of Terrace. It seems to be that, for the protection of motor traffic, particularly tourists, there should be no delay in placing curbs alongside the road on the river side."

Mr. Albins is accompanied by his wife. They arrived in the city Thursday and will return to the interior Sunday, heading for Telkwa that day.

Mr. Albins is manager of W. H. Malkin Co. at Prince George and is a prominent Rotarian.

Harvest Weather Generally Ideal

WINNIPEG—Since last report several days of ideal harvesting weather have prevailed but this ended when fairly widespread rains occurred across the prairies during the past 48 hours, according to the final crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Precipitation was heaviest in eastern Manitoba where threshing will be held up from three to four days. Only light rains, however, are reported from many points westward.

During the fine weather good progress was made in harvesting in all sections and many points will complete harvesting in from one to two weeks with favorable weather.

Cool weather prevailed in the Okanagan with a heavy rain on Saturday and Sunday. Fruit is moving in more heavy quantities and apples ripening satisfactorily. Vegetable crops are good but tomatoes are not up to expectations so far as quantities marketed to date are concerned and although they are later than expected in ripening a good tomato crop is in prospect.

Good Highway—But Dangerous

Charles O. Albins, president of the Prince George Board of Trade, paying his first visit to Prince Rupert, is impressed with the condition of the highway over which he drove here. Mrs. William Chapple suffered bruises at 9:4 last night while walking across Third Avenue at Fifth Street when she became involved in a collision with an automobile driven by Daniel Deveau. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. Rosedale, who jumped clear. Both women were taken to hospital, where Mrs. Chapple was kept for treatment. Her condition was reported as good this morning.
