Let No One Sneeze

THE OVERALL MAJORITY of Britain's Labor party is now eight and the majority over Mr. Churchill's legions is a bare 313 to 297. It will be remembered that in a recent division of the House over the minor matter of adjournment, the court was sharply against the government. Quite rightly Mr. Attlee declined to consider it a criticism of the government, but it did point to the constant danger facing him. Perhaps the Labor Government after even a so sharply qualified success, remains overconfident.

Matters are at a pass where a half dozen Labor members forgetting to wear their rubbers on a wet London day might change the political fortunes of Britain. It is not likely that the Conservatives under Mr. Churchill's astute leadership will fail to take advantage should such an opportunity arise. Never, as Mr. Churchill might have said, were such weighty decisions hung upon the snuffles of the few.

SOME GOOD PUBLICITY

PRINCE RUPERT gets a good spot of up-to-date publicity in a comprehensive article "Where To Build Your Factory" by P. H. Linzey, secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, which appears in a recent issue of "Canada's Weekly," published in Britain but featuring Canada, particularly from the industrial, commercial and economic angles. Mr. Linzey has missed little in the way of latest industrial developments and advantages and opportunities offered here and hereabouts for new industry. The article reflects a good deal of research in bringing Prince Rupert's story up to date and Mr. Linzey is to be congratulated on a good job.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER?

NO PROFESSIONAL SOLDIER has served the United States as president for many years but there is another Eisenhower boom on for 1952.

It is no novelty for men of military training and experience to have had a part, in the guidance of the nation in a civilian sense. Washington, father of his country, Jackson, fiery fighter of the south, Harrison, Taylor and Grant, who led the Union armies to Appotomax, all sat in the highest executive office.

Today, possible candidates are mentioned. There are parties, groups, movements. There are admissions that the times will be calling for a type of man who, more than others, is best fitted to succeed such historic predecessors. Many Americans believe they have found him in the person of General Eisenhower, who came home from France to take over a university.

Trip to Moscow is Condemned

George Drew Urges Trygve Lie to Keep off Appeasement Trail

TORONTO — Speaking before the Empire Club here Thursday,

George Drew, leader of the Progressive-Conservative party, declared it would be folly for Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, to visit Premier Joseph Stalin in Russia. He warned against a road of appeasement and humiliation to the Kremlin, reminding of Munich in the days before World War II.

. . . and Reminisces

Prince Rupert is changing. What a weird unnatural feeling it would give a fellow to step out and know any one!

Anybody who followed the efforts to find Spanish doubloons in the long lost Florencia of the Spanish Armada, sunk in Tobermory Bay, Scotland, refreshed his knowledge of romantic history, anyway. Perhaps there's the makings of a dashed good movie. Naturally enough, that winsome lass Mary, Queen of Scots, would be mentioned here and there.

"Always say your prayers and eat an apple at bedtime", advises an old-timer. By following this advice it is assumed one can keep both the devil and the doctor away.—Juneau Empire.

It's a long way to go but Labrador's iron ore will yet find a way to the industrial empire around the Great Lakes. The St. Lawrence remains a popular subject with Ottawa and Washington.

Someone said, last winter, that May was the month construction of that $500,000 hotel would commence. And May is just around the more or less distant corner. There are numerous ladies and gentlemen in Prince Rupert who have had unrivalled experience in waiting. But everyone welcomes some sort of reward after long and faithful service.

Starting a story that some well known local person is dead without knowing absolutely if it is a fact is more carelessness than anything else. In practically every case it shocks and often can mean distress or illness, unless there is speedy correction. How and where do these dangerous yarns start? Only too readily will people take the worst, for granted.

The harbor is a safe and spacious haven as well as a noble playground which it will be on Port Day, July 1. But how many of the present population know much about it? How many have even been away from Kalen Island as far as the opposite shore? How many have sailed around it, or been as distant as Shawatians, cruised away in Tuck's Inlet and into the roomy bay extending well toward Georgetown and Port Simpson? Yet, its all "the harbor". Or, how many, stepping ashore for the first time some morning, are able to say next day by which end of the port, their ship entered.

New Ambassador To Canada Named

WASHINGTON D. C. — President Truman yesterday announced the appointment of Stanley Woodward, now chief of protocol of the State Department, as the new United States ambassador to Canada, succeeding the late Lawrence Steinhardt, recently killed in an airplane accident.

Senator George Jones Succumbs

OTTAWA — Progressive-Conservative strength in the Senate was further reduced Thursday with the death of Senator George B. Jones of New Brunswick. He was 84 years of age and had been in the Senate since 1925. He served for a short time as minister of labor in the government of former Premier Arthur Meighen.

The Senate now has 75 Liberal members and thirteen Progressive-Conservatives with fourteen seats vacant.

Britain And Palestine

LONDON — Great Britain yesterday officially recognized Hashemite Jordan's annexation of Arab Palestine and, at the same time, accorded full de jure recognition of the state of Israel. Kenneth Younger, minister of state, announcing this in the House of Commons, said that Britain's recognition of Israel was subject to explanation of two points.

The British government, he said, was unable to recognize the sovereignty of Israel over that part of Jerusalem she occupied pending final determination. Similar reservations, he said, were made on Israel's boundaries.

Miss Eileen Cross of the University of British Columbia extension department, who had been here giving courses in sewing and home furnishings at the Civic Centre, left by yesterday's plane on her return to Vancouver.

Checking Up On Finances

More Control and Economy Called For by George Drew

OTTAWA — George Drew, Progressive-Conservative leader, called in Commons for "an examination of the whole business of the government" and demanded that the people's business be brought "fully under control" of parliament.

Continuing in the budget debate, the Opposition leader said the government has presented a $2,400,000,000 budget without any idea of how to economize.

Mr. Drew said he felt that, by complete examination of government business, overlapping services within the government could be eliminated.
