CO-OPERATION IN FIRE FIGHTING

TERRACE—Speaking of the splendid co-operation between the forestry department and the local volunteer fire brigade, Forest Ranger S. G. Cooper said here last week that it was largely due to their getting the equipment on the scene quickly and putting it to good use that a major disaster was averted when the barn out at Baxter's Mill burned out last summer. The Terrace citizens and those living outside the town benefited greatly by the local brigade which had some young ardent firemen and some good modern equipment. The forestry hose drying tower will always be available to them.

Mr. Cooper was speaking on the occasion of the "Get-Together" dinner given by the Volunteer Fire Brigade in the Silver Tip dining room last Tuesday evening. J. H. Smith was chairman and spoke briefly and introduced the other speakers.

Mr. Charles Adam, speaking for the village commissioners, said that they had always done their best to supply the equipment asked for and will continue to do so as far as possible.

The Firemen's Ball was planned for the night of May 3 and it will be held in the Civic Centre. To the ticket selling committee "Curley" Casey, Rawley Beecher and John Gordon were appointed. Jeff Lambley and Don Parmenter were appointed to the lunch committee for the dance.

The future lies at the point of the drill

The names of Canada's new oil fields have been heard from coast to coast . . . Leduc, Woodbend, Redwater.

They are fields discovered in the greatest search for oil in Canada's history. Already they have brought benefits to all Canadians; and in the west where they are turning back the tide of expensive imports the direct savings are counted in millions.

But before the fullest benefits can reach everyone even more oil must be found.

The successes of the past two years have been possible because there were people willing to go on risking millions in the search in spite of repeated disappointments.

Now, after the barren years that went before, these new fields seem large—and they are large! But they are far from enough to make Canada self-sufficient.

Canada is still dependent on foreign countries for more than 80 per cent of her oil and so her own resources must be developed. Exploration must be continued. More and more wells must be drilled so that markets can be expanded.

There is not yet enough oil to justify the big investments that will be needed if all Canadians are to enjoy the fullest benefits of western resources. Pipe lines, for instance, cost a lot to build; but over the years they provide low-cost transportation—so necessary to reach out to wider markets. The Edmonton-Regina line planned by Imperial is but a beginning.

Further discoveries are the only means of breaking through the distance barriers that hem prairie oil with transportation costs. The future lies at the point of the drill.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

If you're interested in facts . . .

While it is now estimated the known oil in Alberta is roughly equal to our needs for the next five years, actually this oil could not be produced efficiently in less than 20 years.

To meet her present oil requirements it has been estimated Canada needs reserves of several billion barrels.

Imperial's 450 mile pipe line from Edmonton to Regina is expected to be in operation by the end of next year. Cost is estimated at between $35 and $40 million. It is a step towards wider markets.
