U.S. MARGARINE SALES INCREASE

Butter Production Off and Prices Decline From Post-War High Mark
By George Ronald
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, 23 — Government statistics show oleomargarine makes up an increasingly popular part of the United States diet.

As oleo consumption soared in 1947—from 552,100,000 pounds to 712,400,000 — butter production was also increased—from 1,168,100,000 pounds to 1,321,700,000. But butter output has dropped this year and more and more of the substitute has appeared on American tables.

At October 31, margarine consumption last year was 742,700,000 pounds; agriculture department experts predict the 12-month figure will be about 900,000,000 pounds. The 10-month butter production total was 1,047,800,000 pounds; the probable 1948 total is 1,250,000,000.

In Canada, where a 62-year old ban on oleo was ended in December by Supreme Court decision, no margarine vs. butter trend has yet been established. Canadians are hopeful, however, that margarine will bring down butter prices, still under control and selling at about 73 cents a pound. The first batch of margarine sold in the Dominion was retailed at 53 cents a pound.

Butter prices in the United States have fallen recently from the post-war high average of about $1 a pound to around 70 cents. Uncolored margarine costs the Washington housewife about 29 cents.

Cheap as margarine is in this country, considerable sentiment remains for repeal of the 10 cents a pound tax on colored margarine. It is this levy which causes housewives to mix in the color themselves to save money.

RENEW REPEAL FIGHT

Many congressmen, both Democratic and Republican, have indicated that they will renew the repeal fight in the Senate and the House of Representatives. A bill passed the House last session but was hamstrung by a Senate filibuster by dairy-state senators.

This bill, sponsored by Rep. L. M. Rivers (Dem. S.C.), would repeal all licence fees for oleo manufacturers and dealers and end the tax on colored margarine. The House vote in favor of the Rivers measure was 260 to 109.

A most important angle in the battle to make cheap margarine cheaper is the tax-repeal plank in the Democratic party platform. Rep. Harold D. Cooley (Dem. N.C.), who will lead the House agriculture committee, said recently he thinks this "should be enacted into law without much difficulty."

Observers say chances of Senate approval will be better in 1949. The National Co-operative Milk Producers' Federation, the chief opponent of the tax repeal last session, now is reportedly willing to end the quarter-cent tax on uncolored oleo if the 10 cent levy on colored mar-

VANCOUVER GIRL RECOVERS SPEECH—A miracle occurred for Laverne Tindale, 13, of Vancouver when she got her speech back. She became paralyzed and mute as a result of an accident four months ago. Imagine her surprise when she said "shoes" when shown a pair of ballet slippers.

The Experts Say - -

MAGIC OF HERBS — Herbs can work magic on the most ordinary of foods.

Home economists say that subtle seasoning not only improves many foods, but often lifts an economical and uninteresting dish into the "special" class.

Basil improves tomato dishes, soups or stews; dill goes well with fish, beans and pickled beets! marjoram may be used with beef, pork, meat loaves and sandwich spreads.

Parsley gives a delicious flavor when chopped and sprinkled lightly over scrambled eggs, potatoes or chicken. Dried parsley may be added to stems, soups, sauces and stuffing.

Savory always goes into poultry dressing, but improves the flavor when added to beef loaves, hamburgers, pork and beans.

Caraway in cake is an old favorite, but caraway seeds are delicious in cottage cheese, cabbage salad and rolls. Rosemary is ideal for roast meats and french fried potatoes.

Sage dressing in roast goose is traditional, but sage in baked beans, on fish or in stews may also improve their flavors. Tarragon gives a rich tangy flavor to salad dressings, egg or chicken dishes. Thyme brings out the flavor of cheese dishes, clam chowder and fish dishes. It may also be used in tomatoes and cottage cheese.

Speaking of cottage cheese, the health and welfare department suggests it as an ideal substitute for meat. A source of animal protein, it also is rich in vitamin B. And if it has been made from whole milk, it also contains vitamin A.

One-quarter cup tapioca; one cup hot gravy or stock; one teaspoon pepper; one-eighth teaspoon paprika; 1/2 cups hot water; one tablespoon parsley chopped; one tablespoon catsup; two cups cooked meat cut in cubes; two cups mashed potatoes seasoned.

Add tapioca, pepper, salt, and paprika to hot water and gravy and cook in double boiler 15 minutes. Add onion, catsup and meat. Mix and put in greased baking dish, spread mashed potatoes on top and bake in moderate oven.

SONS OF NORWAY WHIST AND DANCE

Another in the enjoyable series of whist parties and dances by Sons of Norway Lodge was held Friday night. There were 10 tables of cards and more called in for the dance which followed.

Prize-winners were Mrs. B. Pedersen, Mrs. Gunnar Selvig, Gunnar Selvig and Frank Schraeder.

After refreshments, dancing was enjoyed to Mike Colussi's piano-accordion music.

Committee in charge consisted of Nels Gunderson, Gunnar Selvig, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Henriksen, Mrs. P. Pritchard, Mrs. J. Pedersen and Mrs. F. Schraeder.

Next social event of the lodge will be a hard times dance on February 4.

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

The usual two Sunday boats of Union Steamships Ltd. were in port yesterday. Having made a speedy voyage to Masset Inlet points, the steamer Coquitlam, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived at 6 a.m., sailing at 10 o'clock last night for Vancouver via Butedale, Namu and Westview. The Coquitlam came in with her best load of passengers yet from the Queen Charlottes. Second vessel of the day was the Camosun, Capt. John Boden, which arrived at 6:10 last evening from the south and sailed at midnight for Port Simpson, Alice Arm and Stewart whence she is due back here tomorrow morning to sail at 1:30 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints.

Departure time of the Union steamer Coquitlam for Butedale, Namu, Westview and Vancouver has been advanced an hour to 10 o'clock Sunday evenings to permit the vessel to make a scheduled call at Westview and still arrive at Vancouver at 2 p.m. Tuesdays. The vessel formerly left at 11 o'clock but recent inclusion of Westview as a port of call made it desirable to advance the departure time from Prince Rupert.

TERRACE WEDDING WAS BEAUTIFUL

Miss Adela Haugland Married to Prince George Man

TERRACE—In the soft light of tall white tapers in gleaming silver candelabra placed on the pulpit and organ of St. Matthew's Church, Adela Amelia Haugland, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Haugland of Terrace, and Duncan L. Munro of Prince George were united in marriage at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, Rev. P. H. Mallett officiating. The small church decorated with pink and white carnations was filled with the guests.

The fair beauty of the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was enhanced by the turquoise accessories of her bi-ge wool suit and chic hat of turquoise velvet and ostrich feather. Her corsage was of white gardenias and roses.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Gordon Haugland in a moss green afternoon dress of wool with brown accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Fred Kerby was groomsmen and the ushers were Gordon Haugland and Howard Fisher. Playing the organ was Mrs. J. Felber who also accompanied Mrs. Lloyd Johnstone in her solo "Because" during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served in the Silver Tip dining room where 50 invited guests sat down at tables decorated with pink and white carnations. Receiving the guests were the mothers of the bride and groom Mrs. Haugland wore a cocoa brown dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Munro was dressed in a printed blue silk jacket dress with blue accessories and a corsage of carnations. For her gown, Mrs. Aitken, sister of the groom, chose midnight blue with black accessories and a black lace and net hat. Her corsage, too, was of pink and white carnations.

On the bride's table stood a beautiful, three-tiered wedding cake surrounded by pink and white carnations. Beautifully decorated in pastel shades of icing, the cake, a work of art by Mrs. Florence Bailey, was duly cut by the bride and groom.

The toast to the bride was proposed in humorous vein by Rev. P. H. Mallett and responded to by the groom. The

RESIDED HERE IN EARLY DAYS

Fred G. Bacon who was located in Prince Rupert in the early days and was a brother of B. J. Bacon of this city, passed away at Victoria at the end of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Bacon of this city sailed Sunday night on the Coquitlam to attend the funeral.

The late Mr. Bacon was employed as an engineer on steam trawlers of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. out of here and was also working at Shawlans before World War I in which he served in the Royal Navy. He returned here after that war but left for Port Alberni in 1920 and operated the Alberni Engineering Works, retiring recently in Victoria.

Deceased was 64 years of age and was born in Kelvedon, Essex, England. He is survived by a widow and son, Peter, a sergeant in the present force of the Canadian Army. The late Mr. Bacon was a member of the Masonic Fraternity Order of Eagles and a member of the Rotary Club.

Word has been received from George Dover of Terrace in Vancouver his third engineering examination with an average of 82 per cent.

Deceased was 64 years of age and was born in Kelvedon, Essex, England. He is survived by a widow and son, Peter, a sergeant in the present force of the Canadian Army. The late Mr. Bacon was a member of the Masonic Fraternity Order of Eagles and a member of the Rotary Club.

Scale of Advance In Cigar Prices

MONTREAL—An increase in the price of cigars provides that smokes which have been selling at three for 25 cents will now change to two for 19 cents. Two for a quarter cigars will be two for 27 cents and the two for 35 will go up by two cents. Increase in tobacco will be about 10 cents per pound.
