PORT DAY IDEAS

Day is going to be held on Dominion Day and this double holiday should attract people from the whole district and make the celebration a great success.

We school children would suggest a children's parade, a parade of decorated floats, running races for the children and on the water, boat races, surf board races and exhibitions of fishermen at their work on the fishing boats.

Of course we need bands, our own with its gay uniforms and jolly tunes and also the fine native bands from out of town. We hope that everyone will come out to make it a big success. May the 1950 Port Day be a day we shall never forget

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The Korean part of the Far East yesterday looked and sounded as warlike as flaming bombs, the crash of explosions, the tramp of tired feet, red troops as well as red bayonets, hospitals, stench and hunger could make it. It is not thought the Dean of Canterbury was anywhere in the immediate neighborhood of actual hostilities.

"A bird fancier," comments the Juneau Empire, "can be induced to make a canary sing by giving him a few drops of gin." But who wants to hear a canary sing "Sweet Adeline"?

After driving over it, Colonel H. F. S. Blades, a present visiting in the city, describes the Skeena Highway, as the best gravelled road in British Columbia. Serving here with the Rocky Mountain Rangers early in the war, he is no stranger to the north and his judgment has value. It is welcome and timely.

DARBY MELNICK—Taking all comers at the Crescent Shows now operating in Prince Rupert are Darby Melnick, 170 pounds, and Bul' Dog Ryan, 160 pounds, wrestlers. Melnick was one time welter and middleweight amateur champion of Canada and later held the professional middleweight belt in Western Canada.

ANCIENT WRITING

Hieroglyphics were used by the ancient Egyptians as a sort of writing which conveys the idea of a thing without actually naming it.

wheat has been seen there in years. It was built for the sole purpose of forwarding grain. Taxpayers may well ask embarrassing questions. For it was once their money.

Dominion Day did not become law without years of planning, study, disappointment, argument, persuasion and finally accomplishment. There's plenty left untold in the average story of Confederation and one can wager it would make diverting reading. There were numerous reasons back of the pact that linked the provinces together. One was the Civil War across the border.

Whitehorse was a drowsy, silent sort of place back in the thirties. Or so we thought, stepping off the train and looking around. A sign, several blocks away, said "Printing." It was correct to assume that meant the weekly newspaper "Star." We called, even before signing at a hotel. No one was home. There might have been a key. It was all so typical. The door of a second room was open. Plainly, the boss was away. Taking a chair we waited. A large, comfortable looking cat entered and sitting down looked us over.
