Would Have Bobbies Hand Out Spankings

LONDON (U.P.)—Dr. E. Burnett, 82-year-old London pathologist, believes that to spare the rod is to spoil the child. And he thinks policemen ought to be allowed to apply the rod.

Testifying at the inquest into the death of a nine-year-old boy drowned in the Thames he said: "When I was a boy I fell in a river. A policeman fished me out. He made sure there was nothing wrong with me, took off his belt and gave me a good hiding.

PIPER GOES TO SENATE—Tom Reid, whose renditions on the bagpipes used to echo along House of Commons corridors, may perform this season for the edification of his new colleagues in the Senate.

Mr. Reid, 63-year-old veteran of 19 years in the Commons as Liberal member for New Westminster, B. C., was appointed to the Red Chamber by Prime Minister St. Laurent last week. He served as parliamentary assistant to the fisheries and health ministers in the last parliament.

ADDRESSES ARE FEATURE OF W.O.M. MEETING

A report on the Moose national convention at San Francisco and a description of Mooseheart, the international lodge's home for children in Illinois, were given to the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Chapter, Women of the Moose.

Mrs. John Kasper, who attended the San Francisco convention to receive her degree into the College of Regents, described events at the west coast city, while Mrs. C. Lundstrom described the great work that is being done at the lodge's home for children.

Mrs. Kasper who is Junior Graduate Associate Dean, wore the cap and gown symbolic of her position as a member of the College of Regents and she was received by the Prince Rupert chapter with honors and ritual work in keeping with her position.

A highlight of the convention, she said, was the parade along Market Street, which was led by a live Moose and which was made up of floats and drill teams representing hundreds of lodges and chapters throughout the world.

The vast Mooseheart children's home, near Chicago was described by Mrs. Lundstrom. Actual "home" to more than 300 children of Moose members who have suffered misfortune. Mooseheart is a happy, self-supporting place where crafts and trades are taught. Individual initiative and community responsibility are blended to develop the best in citizenship.

The home comprises an integrated community of some 1,200 acres operated by the children under guidance of trained adults. A fine, new church with both Protestant and Catholic chapels is now nearing completion.

Following the addresses, refreshments were served and a social evening enjoyed by the members. Chairman of the meeting was Senior Regent Mrs. Harold Muncney.

Galloping Golfer Tours 2,825 Clubs

Ralph Kennedy Rides Hobby on Golf Courses of 11 Lands

SUDBURY, Ont. (U.P.)—Talking about hobbies, here's one for the books.

A 67-year-old pencil manufacturer from New York State, who finds golf a "mental cathartic," played on his 2,824th and 2,825th golf courses in the Nickel City recently.

Tanned and muscular, Ralph A. Kennedy, of the Winged Foot Golf Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y., in which he holds the No. 2 membership card, hopes to make it 3,000 before he retires.

He started his golfing career 39 years ago and has played in every state of the union, each of Canada's provinces and in nine foreign countries.

"It's just a hobby," he said at Sudbury. "Some people like to fish. Others hunt. But I like to travel from one place to another and play on a different golf course each day. Sometimes I do several in one day. It gets one around the country more than anything I know of."

The galloping golfer claims he has played on more courses than any other man in the world.

"I have my card, signed by the professional from every course I have ever played."

He played his 1,000th course on his 50th birthday, his 2,000th on his 58th and his 2,800th on his 67th birthday this year.

MEMBER FROM MONTREAL—Arthur Survever of Montreal is the only member of the Massey Commission on Cultural Development not connected with academic activities. He is a civil engineer while the other members of the commission are closely associated with universities.

Following the end of public hearings in Ottawa, the commission is touring Canada.

COMMERCIALS DROP THEIR PROTEST; MERCHANTS AND SAVOYS IN FINALS

Commercial players cleared the way for Merchants and Savoys to proceed with the finals of the baseball play-offs when they withdrew their protests of Sunday's semi-final games in which the Merchants defeated the league title holders in two games.

A review of the facts of alleged non-registration of players revealed that the players had not been legally released from the club and were, therefore, still the property of the Merchants team. The players mentioned in the protest are Abel and Rodesale and the incident involving their release came about following a matter that concerned only Merchants players.

At that time, league president Art Murray interceded and the players returned to the team after missing one game. The question of the eligibility of the players was brought up at the executive meeting of September 6 when Manager Ed Davis of the Commercial was present and Art Murray declared then that the players were qualified members of the Merchants Club, there was no challenging of the decree at that time.

On the matter of the protest of the second game when the umpire's decision was doubted, reference to the rule book indicates that no one has the authority to question the umpire's judgement. Therefore, unless the arbiter could be convinced to change his decision, there would be no grounds for protest.

Following an open discussion of the facts by the executive members, Benny Windie, after a conference with the Commercial sponsors announced their decision to withdraw the protests.

Art Nickerson, chairman of the meeting, commented on the success of the Commercial team in being the victors of schedule play and declared that it was largely due to their strong entry that the league has been the most successful in recent years.

Feasibility of evening games for the remainder of play-offs was ruled out and it was decided to play a double-header on Sunday. By winning both ends of the twin bill either team would take the championship.
