Fans Kept On Edge By Keeness Of Playing: Hotelmen Winners

Senior—Brownwoods 34, Savoy 42
Intermediate—Morgan's 33, Stone's 23
Ladies—People's Store 14, High School 22
Junior—Rupert Hotel 17, Kinsmen 22

Before a good-sized crowd the local basketball teams which had not figured in opening night play Saturday went into action Tuesday night. All four games featured second half drives which kept the fans on edge.

In the Senior game, which brought the fans to their feet several times, Savoy defeated Brownwoods 42 to 34. It was a closely fought game with Brownwoods contesting it all the way. It featured fast breaks, spectacular shooting and aggressive playing. Lavigne opened scoring with a one-hander from the side. Gurvich followed with a lay-up. Rupert Holkestad, holder of the Bobby Houston Memorial Trophy, led his team with a display of hook shots, right and left-handed making many interceptions. The third quarter started with no let-up in the pace, both teams driving in hard for shots and then fighting for rebounds and loose balls. Savoy had the edge and increased their lead to 35 to 20 by three-quarter time. The fourth period had Brownwoods going all-out to overtake Savoy but the lead was too great. They outscored the hotel men 14-7 in the final quarter. This continued their type of play of last season when they usually lost all Savoy's as they continued to drive and pile up an 18 to 10 lead at half time. Brownwoods passing was weak with Savoy shown this year as all these boys are capable of better ball than they have been displaying. Both teams had lead players. Thompson displayed form reminiscent of two years ago. Forman was a tower of strength on defence. Rupert Holkestad led Savoy's. His brother Mel was the playmaker for the team. In fact all players turned in a driving forceful game such as the fans enjoy.

INTERMEDIATE
The Intermediate game had Morgan's, last year's cellar dwellers, defeating Stone's, up from the Junior league, 33 to 23. Brew of Morgan's opened the scoring with a lay-up shot. Morgan's scored freely during the first quarter, leading at its end 11-3. This continued through the second with a half-time score of 19 to 7. Morgan's displayed a fine passing attack that had Stone's missing on their checking assignments. Stone's were nervous and showed this with poor passing and shooting. They steadied down in the second half and matched Morgan's point for point. They drove hard in the final quarter but it was not enough. Stone's, playing against more experienced players for the first time, will take a little time to get used to the stiffer competition. They have several good players around whom to build. Morgan's played like a team. Their passing and shooting was good. Brew was their outstanding player.

LADIES'
The ladies' game saw People's absorb their second defeat at the hands of High School 20 to 14. It was an even game in the first half with no team having the playing edge. High led at half time 8 to 6. The third quarter saw People's open up their offensive which gave them the lead 14 to 11 at the three-quarter mark. In the fourth quarter High School opened up with a fast breaking passing attack which pulled them up and past People's. The score was tied 14 to 14 with 2 minutes to go when Matson scored with a one-hander from behind the key. Currie followed with a lay-up and Lykkaar put in a push shot for the final score. Nellie Bill played a stellar guard position for People's. Christine Currie led High School with 10 points, 8 of which she garnered in the first half.

JUNIOR
The Junior game brought Kinsmen against Rupert Hotel. Kinsmen, composed of the top players from last year's Juvenile league, edged the hotel men 22 to 17. This was an exciting game from start to finish. The first half ended 14 to 9 for Kinsmen. Both teams had had breaks on their shooting. The third quarter was a driving one with no teams getting the advantage. Each scored a field goal. The final quarter brought the game tighter. Marki and Becker scored for the hotel players to put them only one point behind, 16 to 15. Then Derek Letourneau took over for the Kinsmen and, with a wonderful display of dribbling and ball handling, led his team to victory by scoring all his six points in the final quarter. These boys showed a good working knowledge of the game and the fans enjoyed them.

ON BEING A SPORTS WRITER

Montreal Newspaperman Apologizes To No One For His Credo

D. A. L. (Dunc) MacDonald has seen a good many sports events and sports writers come and go with his scribbling for the Montreal Gazette and getting around England for some years in the interest of dog racing and viewing all the sports he could there. Now he has doped out what he calls "The credo of a sports writer, with apologies to practically no one."

Here, says Dunc, are the beliefs of a sports writer: That journalism is a stepping stone to public life. That a sports writer must wear a hat with a turn-down brim. Or, failing that, must wear his hat perched on the back of his head. That he must watch all sports events with a steely glint in his eye and a grim mouth. That he must never cheer in the press box. That he must talk out of the corner of his mouth. That the greatest movie he ever saw was "Front Page." That he is certain he recognized himself as one of the characters. That some day he will write like Damon Runyon. That newspapermen can't get arrested. That there is no news; it all happened many times before. That all managing editors are an unprintable name. That the cardinal sin is to refuse a drink at any time. That all newspaper men type with two fingers. That sports writing is the greatest game in the world. That sports writers are grossly underpaid. That if a fellow were smart he could get out of it and into the advertising business. That the adjective is the most useful of all the parts of speech. That he can never use too many adjectives in a lead. That it is all right to pinch a couple of paragraphs out of someone's column in an out-of-town paper. That if he is desperate, it is all right to pinch the whole story. That he was going to write that very yarn anyway. That some day he will buy a weekly paper and get away from it all.
