Agreement On Austria Reached As Big Four Parley Comes To A Close

"Live And Let Live" Keynote

PARIS (CP)—The Big Four foreign ministers announced tonight that they had reached agreement on principles of an Austrian peace treaty. Frontiers will remain the same as in 1938 and there will be no reparations.

The foreign ministers also announced they had reached a "live and let live" arrangement for the occupying powers. Present temporary arrangements, including lifting of the Russian blockade and continued consultations on transportation and trade, will be maintained.

The conference ended tonight with no decision as yet on the Far East.

PICTURED HERE is a model of the new, 10-room King Edward elementary school which Prince Rupert ratepayers will be asked to finance by a bylaw this fall. Designed along modern lines with all classrooms on one floor, the building will cost an estimated $304,920, of which the provincial government will pay half. Half of the $20,000 worth of equipment which will be needed also will be paid for by the provincial government. The architects, Sharp and Thompson, Berwick, Pratt, of Vancouver, have designed the building to sit on the westerly side of the present King Edward grounds, facing on Green Street. —Photo by Archer.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED

Remembrance of the dead of the wars was freshened today as the Mary Chapter I.O.D.E., the Legion and the Legion Women's Auxiliary afternoon with memorial ceremonies at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Cemetery here. The groups, totalling 70, fell into parade formation at 10:30 a.m. behind the Shrine Club Band and the Canadian Legion. The Cenotaph was laid at the stone column by Stewart, Regent of the Chapter, James and Mrs. J. S. Black, the Legion Women's.

then sounded by Legion Bugler W. J. Rance, after which two minutes' silence was observed. Bugler Rance then sounded "Reveille."

Rev. George Sendat, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, addressed the open air gathering on the theme that Canadians must guard the liberties which those whom they honored had made sacrifices to preserve.

"We are all one in this battle of life," he declared. "Surely our liberties and these things we commemorate are more precious to us than life itself. Those same liberties are being challenged today in a way they have never before been challenged in modern history. We can easily lose them."

Those who would rob Canadians of their liberties would do so insidiously—by promising a Utopia in exchange—but they make no mention of the bargain which would cost us the things that men have died to preserve or of the fact that "our lives would be ordered and we would be given no choice" on the basis of conscience or reasonable thought, he said.

"We would let down those whose names are engraved here if we were to let down our fundamental way of life," he said. Following the decoration of the graves, the Shrine Club Band directed by Peter Lien, led in the singing of "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

When the group returned to the city, the parade was reformed at the corner of Third Avenue and Sixth Street and marched to the Canadian Legion hall where it was dismissed. Parade marshal was J. S. Wilson.

SALMON BOATS STAY IN PORT

Skeena River salmon fishermen remained at the canneries Sunday night, letting the opening of the sockeye season slip pending settlement of the 1949 price schedule with the operators.

Final point of settlement may be reached today at a meeting between the cannery operators and a joint negotiating committee of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union and the Native Brotherhood of B.C. who represent the fishermen.

Settlement of the dispute on the Skeena and Naas Rivers will set the pattern for the whole coast. Sockeye gillnetting and fishing on the Fraser River has been set to start on June 26.

Agreement has been reached on the sockeye price, which will be 18 cents a pound, but other points must be cleared up before the fishermen will start their seasonal operation.

It is anticipated that between 700 and 800 gillnetters will fish on the Skeena this summer.

SAVOYS TAKE COMERCIALS IN GAME OF CITY BASEBALL

SAVOY 8, COMMERCIAL 5

Prince Rupert's three-team baseball league played at one corner as it has been known to in years or will it remain a rigid, equalateral in which all teams will give equalized stimulating competition?

A question that is going to be in the minds of other crowds as the Savoy and it was one to take growth in Savoy won the second game of the season, over their hotel rivals, the Commercial, by a score of 8 to 5.

The fact that Commercial lost both games, have so far played, suggestion that they are weak corner of the league. If the trend continues also will be no such an attitude will be played they have had fight. Yesterday's game them take an early lead for the Savoy squad, behind when Savoy scored four runs in the is reminiscent of former years when they turned out to be impregnable, to their own greater glory, but to no particular advantage to the game itself.

Commercial moundsman Dick Letourneau may have had an off-day Sunday. At least, he did not show up as well as he has in earlier games and was replaced in the seventh after allowing four hits—two of them doubles—in that inning.

He was replaced by Stan Cornwell who carried through to the ninth, striking out three and allowing five hits. Letourneau allowed 11 hits during seven and one-third innings.

Jack Lindsay pitched the course for Savoy, facing 38 batters, striking out seven, allowing 11 hits and two bases on balls.

C.C.F. POLICY
"Social ownership will free the people from the power of private monopoly." This quotation is taken from the first term program of the C.C.F. party and we quote further: "Social ownership will free the people from the power of private monopoly. It will make possible a higher standard of living through increased production and lower prices. It is an essential part of any plan for maintaining full employment, and for providing a fairer distribution of wealth. In some cases socialization may also be necessary to restore efficiency to a disorganized and undeveloped industry."

Following this extract from the C.C.F. platform their policy, their leader, Mr. Coldwell, in a speech delivered in Toronto to the C.C.F. University Federation on December 30, 1948, said that, as far as he could see, there was no chance of Socialism coming into power in Canada until we have another great depression. As long as good times continue, he admitted the "Capitalist system will keep going."
