HI-JACKERS' SUBSTITUTE—A wad of hemp found in a British cargo reaching Canada is held by James H. Edwards, claims agent for the Canada Steamship Lines at Montreal. Mr. Edwards reported hi-jackers stole valuable goods from Canadian-bound shipments and used hemp and rope to pad out the bales. Losses to Canadian importers have totalled $1,000,000 in the last year. (C. P. Photo)

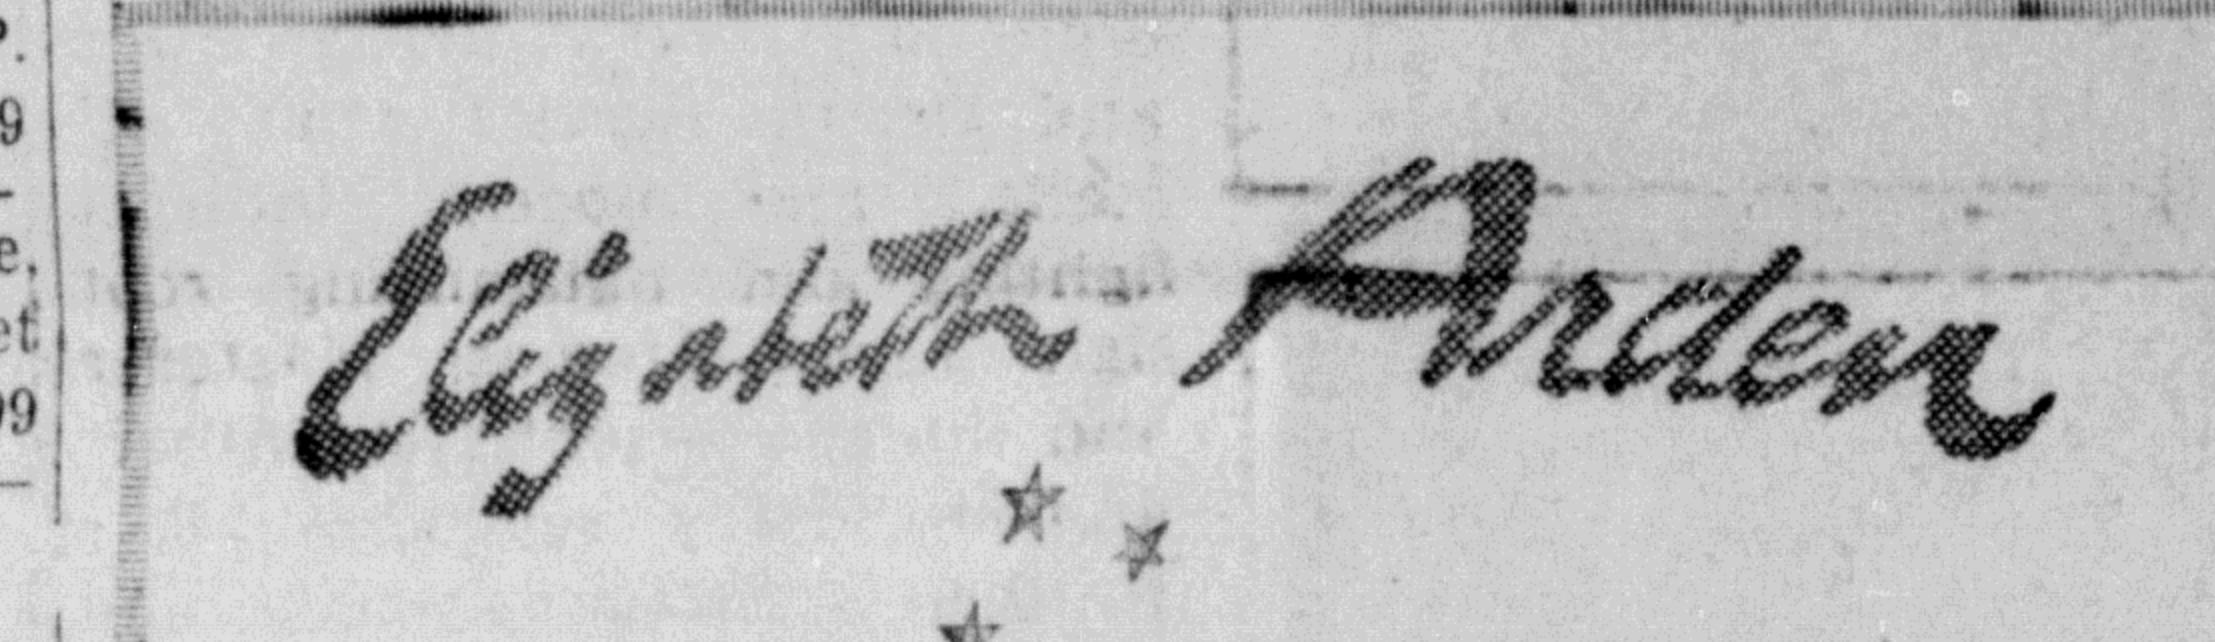

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.I.

A parcel addressed to a local newspaperman arrived yesterday. Carefully wrapped and weighing about three pounds, it aroused, in the mind of the recipient, a not unpleasant anticipation considering the season of goodwill. It was a book, and we're fond of reading, too. It was entitled "Report of The Superintendent of Insurance For Canada For The Year Ended December 31 1946." Should anyone, throughout the coming year desire to be enlightened on insurance matters, kindly call.

Winston Churchill is 74 but he does not allow a little thing like that to worry him. He remains engrossed in public matters, keeps himself interested in literature, paints, lays bricks, rides horseback, drinks, eats the best food he can find and does not neglect tobacco. Had he been regarded as too old at 40, he might, later on, have been missed.

Stomachs Upset By Bread Change

JOHANNESBURG, (P) — The first few weeks of white bread have caused a nation-wide upset in South African stomachs. Chemists report that there has been a sudden demand for laxatives recently. They say this is due to white bread. A medical expert said "Many people will find that their stomachs do not function nearly as regularly nor will they feel as comfortable as when they eat brown bread. It is only natural. Standard brown contained a fairly large amount of material such as bran." "People will probably tend to eat more fruit and vegetables to make up for the lost roughage," said a doctor at the S. A. Institute of Medical Research.

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (P) — Early-bird Dr. J. R. Fraser from five to nine o'clock each morning plants trees near Port Elgin. In five years the medico has covered 17 of his 22 acres with 35,000 trees—pines, fruits, shrubs, walnuts.

The sort of place that makes one feel happier. Consider Thursday night. There five hopeful boys hung up their stockings and darned if old man Santa didn't slip around and put something in each one.

The question of liquor has been definitely decided so far as Prince Rupert is concerned. It was resolved, officially, on Thursday to drink—that is to say a liquid known as chlorinated water. T here are other forms of refreshments available, however.

other basic adjustments. Installation of bathroom and plumbing fixtures was done by Saanich Plumbing and Heating. Private bathrooms feature pen-broke baths. Mr. Helgeson says that the reconstruction which has been completed is the forerunner of further renovations which will provide services to the complete satisfaction of his guests.

ALICE ARM MAN SUCCUMBS HERE

William R. McFarlane, 66-year-old prospector and trapper of Alice Arm, died Sunday evening in hospital here after an illness of several weeks. He was brought here from the northern mining town a week ago. Born in Kent County, Ontario, he lived near Alice Arm for the last six years. He was unmarried. There are no relatives on the coast. A brother is expected to arrive here from Saskatchewan tomorrow night.

WOULD SELL RIFLE RANGES LAKEVIEW, Ont. (P) — Defence Minister Claxton will visit this Toronto suburban area shortly in connection with the proposed sale of 298 acres of government rifle ranges. The land does not bring in any tax revenue and council members feel it could be put to better use.
