Bulger Makes Billiard Final

By defeating Jack Campbell 150 to 99 Tuesday night, John Bulger became one of the two contestants in the final match of the tournament which will end this week. Bulger, plus 5, played a sound and steady game and at no time was pressed by his opponent, Jack Campbell, (minus 20). Much to the disappointment of the audience, Campbll never got settled down to his customary game and the match, which was expected to be keenly contested throughout, turned out to be an easy win for John Bulger.

QUTSTANDING JUNIOR ATHLETE LAUDED—Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada talks over track strategy and training methods with 17-year-old George Lynch of Toronto, 1948 winner of the Viscount Alexander award, given each year to the outstanding junior athlete in Canada. The Governor-General, once champion miler of Ireland, expressed hope for the future of Canada in coming Olympic games in such outstanding athletes as Lynch stuck at their guns. Lynch earned the Viscount Alexander award by compiling the phenominal record of 39 championships and 18 records, including two United States national mile championships and a world's interscholastic record in the 3 mile event. Lynch, after being congratulated by the Governor-General, (above) expressed the appreciation of junior athletes all over Canada for the interest Viscount Alexander has taken in the development of junior sport. The Governor-General made a date with Lynch to watch him run during the Dominion Indoor championships to be held in Montreal on March 7th.

In the little Welsh town of Merthyr Tydvil, hometown of welterweight boxer Eddie Thomas, who has flattened most of Britain's best at that weight, is a pretty, brunette named Mwynwen. She is Thomas' girl, yet they never meet. She watches all his local fights, sends him a telegram every time he battles in London, but a target keeps them apart. When Thomas turned professional two years ago he had to make a touch decision. He was courting Mwynwen. But he also was working down the coal pit from seven in the morning to tour in the afternoon Then, straight from work, he was off on a bus to Cardiff to train every night.

So one day he told Mwynwen: "I'm not going to take you out or see you any more until I've won the welterweight championship of Britain." Since then Thomas has kept his word. Ideas of marriage or courtship are "out" until he has won the crown now worn by Henry Hall, whom he has beaten in a non-title bout. The other day Thomas took time off from his underground job to lambast Scotland's clever Willie Whyte with a short right, the sweetest, wickedest head-beater Wales has seen for a long time. He perfected it training with heavyweights.

fandom's intelligence, says there is only one hope of a shot in the arm for boxing. That would be if Louis falls victim to an upset by an unknown or near-unknown.

"The fans would know it was not a phoney with Louis involved so a return bout would have, at least, bona fide and not ersatz appeal."

Challengers Are Wanted

Little Opposition Yet Seen For Joe Louis on Boxing Horizon

by Jack Tracy
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, (CP)—A faint stirring was detected last week in the torpid heavyweight boxing scene and American sports writers promptly went to work with smoking typewriters to drum up an opponent for Champion Joe Louis.

Many names were bandied about—such as Ezzard Charles, Lee Savold, Bruce Woodcock and even Pittsburgh Billy Conn who went six rounds in a Chicago exhibition with Louis Friday night.

Tom (New York Star) Meany even suggests that virtually anybody who could box could beat the aging titleholder.

Not so, says Andy (Montreal Standard) O'Brien. Andy weighs all the potential challangers in the balance and finds them woefully wanting.

Bruce Woodcock's win over Lee Savold in London last week provides some reason for putting Woodcock forth as a challenger, even though he did win on a foul, Andy says.

"But the agitators forget that both Tami Mauriello and Joe Baksi polished off the same Woodcock with little or no effort. Yes, the same Mauriello who failed to last a round with Louis and the same Baksi who once refused to fight Louis under any conditions."

Of Charles he writes: Charles is just a light-heavyweight, 35 pounds lighter than Joe. The match would be a farce."

"Savold? Even if you choose to disregard his defeat by Woodcock because it was via the foul route, you can't ignore the fact that Savold has been hanging out on the wash line a couple of years."

Andy, who contends that the "suggested" list of opponents for Louis represents an insult to
