SPORTS

FRIENDS OFF THE COURTS, FOES ON IT—It's a wonder Pancho Gonzales (right) can still smile after 6-1, 6-1, licking he absorbed from Jack Kramer, right, during their singles match played in Toronto, before 5,000 tennis enthusiasts. The famous tennis stars are currently touring U.S. and Canada, along with two other net stars, Pancho Segura and Frank Parker. Kramer, in running his string of wins to 20 in 24 matches over the Mexican, left no doubt in fans' minds of his complete superiority. In Segura-Parker match, the Ecuadorian dropped first set to Parker, 6-2, but won second by that margin and outlasted Parker in the third, 10-8. Segura then joined up with Gonzales in doubles to win first set 8-6, while Parker and Kramer won second, 6-2.

Who's the greatest hockey player in the game today?

Ask Sid Abel, veteran centre with Detroit Red Wings, and he'll answer—The Rocket.

Chatting with Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll, Abel concentrated his praise on Montreal Canadiens' Maurice Richard, whose 22 goals have given him the top goal-collecting berth in the National Hockey League.

"When's he gonna stop?" Abel moaned. "That's what I want to know. When's he gonna stop?" He said Richard and Goalie Bill Durnan are "what make Canadiens click." "The one guy puts them in at one end and the other guy keeps them out at the other."

Mulling over the league's defencemen, Abel told Carroll that Detroit's Leo Reise is the most under-rated. "He's the best in the league," Abel thinks. "Who's better? Don't tell me Reardon." Ken Reardon of Canadiens, apparently one of Abel's pet peeves, "makes more mistakes in a single game than Reise will make all season." What's more, says Abel, every team in the league "wants a piece of him... that's no accident. He's bullying around in the goal-creek all the time asking for trouble. He'll find it."

If the players, instead of the coaches, had more to say about all-star teams, Abel would pick teammate Red Kelly as the most versatile. "We use him for everything—to kill off penalties and on power plays," Sid says. "But he hasn't had a chance to settle down in any one position long enough to prove how good he is."
