Pleasing Tourists

TOURISTS will soon be streaming through Prince Rupert again by steamer, by train and by highway. Pleased and well impressed tourists can be effective and widespread publicity agents. Conversely, if they are dissatisfied and poorly impressed, they can spread far afield a bad name for a community. Much depends upon the people of a community itself on the impressions which are left upon such visitors.

Some tourist committee activities which might be taken up in Prince Rupert are as follows:

Work with hotel and restaurant managers, service station proprietors, merchants, and others interested to improve standards of service and accommodation.

Get the merchants to sponsor a "Courtesy Campaign" among their employees.

Plan now to run a "Beautification Campaign." Organize an information bureau to operate during the peak season. If hotel and resort accommodation is likely to be inadequate, a registry of available rooms could be set up.

Compile a list of local places of interest and suggested drives and boat trips.

Get the co-operation of everyone in the community in an effort to provide every tourist with:

A friendly welcome from everyone in the comcunity with whom they come in contact;

Clear, correct information on accommodation and facilities in the area;

Accurate instructions on how to reach points of interest and neighboring communities; and Courteous and helpful service.

DUTCH AND INDONESIA

TO MOST CANADIANS the "fabulous East Indies" are not much more than a name. To the Dutch they are the other half of Holland. With these islands the Dutch have had strong emotional as well as financial ties for hundreds of years. Javanese blood flows in many Dutch veins for the Netherlanders are markedly lacking in the feeling about color which exists in many countries.

Since the start of this country the ethical rule of conscientious Dutch administrators in Indonesia has helped prepare that politically backward land for self-rule.

These are facts to be considered in thinking about the Dutch and Indonesia, in endeavouring to understand the position of the Dutch with their relatively enlightened record of colonial rule as well as Indonesian aspirations and accomplishments.

Once again Dutch-Indonesian talks are in progress in Java with a view to reaching a reasonable compromise.
