SALTING AWAY HIS $500 PRIZE

Frank Rainbow will salt away in his bank account for future use the $500 which he won as a prize in the Robin Hood Flour Mills contest recently, he told the audience Wednesday night in the Capitol Theatre where the presentation of the prize was made by William Thain of Vancouver, British Columbia manager of the company. Mr. Rainbow confessed excitement when he heard of his good fortune in winning the prize. "In fact I was so excited I could hardly go to work," he admitted.

During the stage proceedings in connection with the presentation, announcement was made that a special award had been made to Sheardown's, grocers, where Mr. Rainbow purchased the goods. The prize was turned over by the winners to the local Canadian Red Cross drive and was received with appreciative remarks by Stanley Saville.

In the course of the proceedings lucky numbers were drawn from admission slips and four persons in the audience received hampers of Robin Hood products. They were Miss Ann Burton from Masset, who is visiting here with her aunt, Mrs. George A. Hill, E. G. Allard of Prince

FINED $25 ON TWO CHARGES
Carelessness in the purchasing of second-hand goods cost Chin Jon, second-hand dealer $50 in fines when he appeared in city police court recently. He received fines of $25 on each of two counts after pleading guilty. He pleaded guilty to purchasing 17 pounds of wire from a minor without obtaining written consent from the minor's parents for the sale and for failure to keep a sufficient record of the purchase of two storage batteries.

PROMISED JOBS
LONDON—The old soldier with his small pension will not be an object of pity in future. He'll be a civil servant or, perhaps, an executive. The latest attraction for service recruits is the pledge that, with period of duty performed, they will be in line for a good job. The old soldier won't be cast adrift or just fade away.

Festival To Be Extensive
Vancouver Drama Critic To Be Adjudicator
The Civic Centre auditorium as well as the common lounge will be used during the two-day Music and Drama Festival according to Martin Stuart who presented a rough draught of the program to a meeting of the Festival Association last night. Although details of the program have not been completed the meeting that arrangements have been made for younger participants to make their presentations during the afternoons. Mrs. Alex MacKenzie of the awards committee reported that the Drama Branch of the Department of Education had donated another cup which will be presented to the winner in the junior choir class open to choirs outside of schools. Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association has donated a cup for the best senior actress which brings to six the number of cups to be presented in the drama division of the Festival. Medals will be presented to winners in the instrumental solo classes who reach a specific standard. All participants in the competitive music classes will receive certificates bearing the remarks of the adjudicator and a tabulation of marks. In the non-competitive classes certificates bearing the remarks of the adjudicator will be awarded to participants who attain a certain standard. President Richard Cleland reported that Stanley Bligh, music editor of the Vancouver Sun, will replace J. Woods who is unable to accept the position of music adjudicator of the Prince Rupert Festival.
