WOULD CONTROL
DOGS AND CATS

Prince Rupert Horticultural Society favors an increase in dog license fees as a means of controlling the number of animals which are reported doing extensive damage to home gardens. At a meeting last night, members felt that far too many dogs and cats are running around loose with consequent damage to gardens.

The meeting also favored a civic campaign to collect license fees for all dogs in the city after belief had been expressed that a number of unlicensed canines are running loose.

The brief meeting, attended by a dozen members, also discussed preliminary plans for the horticultural show at the Civic Centre carnival next month and set next Tuesday night as the date of an executive meeting to lay plans for the flower show.

Resignation of Mrs. William Slater as secretary was received but no new appointment was made to that post. Mrs. E. W. Becker is acting as secretary temporarily.

TEXAS TRIO VISIT HERE

Texas hot weather, which like everything else Texan, is definitely monumental, can become a bit tiresome, even to a loyal Lone Star Stater, B. J. Manley, Houston, Texas, attorney admits. He is enjoying the cooling effect of a northern summer after a 3,000 mile motor trip.

Now at Ketchikan for a short visit, Mr. Manley, with his mother, Mrs. C. K. Manley, and his sister, Mary K. Davenport, stopped in Prince Rupert Wednesday. They drove here mainly because they were lured by the thrill of new places.

"This is a beautiful country but I wish I could say as much for your roads," Mr. Manley said. "However, I suppose as your population increases, your highways will get better, too."

"You might," said this visitor from the oil capital of the continent, "even find oil up this way too. That would bring them in."

The call of the open road apparently is in the elderly Mrs. Manley's blood, too, because for several years she has driven from Texas, alone, to her summer home in Michigan.

The party will return tonight from Ketchikan and expect to remain in Prince Rupert until next week.

Old-timers in particular, and all sportsmen in particular, will learn with regret that Alex. Haig, formerly one of Prince Rupert's all-star footballers, is on the injured list. He broke a small bone in his ankle at the old-timers practice game last Monday and will limp in a cast for some weeks.
