SCOTTISH GIRL IS BRIDE HERE

Margaret Caine of Airdrie and Charles Love United in Marriage

Prince Rupert - born boy, member of a pioneer local family, was the groom and a young woman, but a year out of Scotland, was the bride in a quiet but interesting marriage ceremony on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Love, 715 Eighth Avenue East, when their son, Charles Love, was united in marriage to Margaret H. B. G. Caine, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilchrist of Airdrie, Scotland. Rev. R. A. Wilson, pastor of First United Church, officiated.

The bride, wearing beige gabardine suit with blue accessories, was given in marriage by Kenneth Nesbitt. The matron of honor, Mrs. Margaret Nesbitt, wore a rose crepe dress with grey accessories. The bride had a corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations. The matron of honor's corsage was of yellow carnations.

Peter Peterson was groomsman. The ceremony was performed before the fireplace which was decorated with mauve and white spray chrysanthemums.

At a reception which followed the ceremony a toast to the bride was proposed by Kenneth Nesbitt and responded to by the groom. A handsome three-tier wedding cake was duly cut by the bride.

On Sunday the couple left on a motor honeymoon trip to Southern British Columbia following which they will return to Prince Rupert to take up residence at 209 Ninth Avenue East.

The groom is a member of the staff of W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd. and the bride has been in the employ of Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative.
