"SORE ARM" RACKLEY REJOINS DODGERS—Sore arm and all, Outfielder Marvin Rackley, who is seen with Manager Burt Shotton (right) has come back to the Brooklyn Dodgers from Pittsburgh. Rackley returned to Ebbets Field because of uproar created by Pittsburgh Pirates Owner Frank McKinney who charged the Dodgers with misrepresenting Rackley's physical condition at the time he was sold in exchange for Johnny Hopp and $25,000. When the charges reached Dodgers prey Branch Rickey, the latter got in touch with McKinney and cancelled the whole deal. Rackley played seven innings against the Cubs, but didn't have a chance to demonstrate the condition of his arm.

LEGION ENDS ENTERTAINMENT

Canadian Legion held its final "Bring Your Missus" night of the season Friday evening, concluding a series of monthly entertainments which have lasted through the winter and spring.

The entertainment committee provided a pleasant surprise with a new entertainer, Mrs. Nora Thompson, whose singing and playing were the feature of the evening. Mrs. Thompson revealed herself as a talented entertainer with considerable background of wartime entertaining in eastern Canada.

The program included songs by Mrs. Peggy Andrews and Jock Campbell, recitations by Reg Kings and W. D. Griffiths and a guitar and harmonica solo by Archie Brogan. Mrs. J. S. Black and S. A. Roberts provided music for the community singing.

Purses and wallets, the handiwork of Don Arney while in Shaughnessy Hospital, were raffled. Mrs. George Penner and Mrs. Joseph Richards were winners of the purses while George Penner and Wilfred Goddard won the wallets.

The program was in charge of Neil Cameron and Vic Duncan, the latter acting as master-of-ceremonies. It concluded with light refreshments served by members of the Legion Women's Auxiliary.
