Musical Delight—

Singers Are Impressive

Horsfall Group Charms
Prince Rupert For Third
Successive Year

High in enthusiastic appreciation if not in numerical strength was the audience which attended at the Civic Centre auditorium last night and was transported to realms of tunesome delight by Horsfall Singers paying a third memorable visit to Prince Rupert. The attendance approached three hundred. Unless Prince Rupert people lend better patronage to such affairs, they are in danger of losing them. And that would be too bad for a city where it is so often lamented that there is only too little of such type of high-class entertainment.

Back for this show were the demure and diminutive soprano Vera Bryson, the sultry and tempestuous mezzo-soprano Wini Hutt, vigorous tenor Karl Norman while handsome Derek MacDermot is a newcomer who made a highly pleasing impression with his fine bass-baritone. As piano accompanist Reg J. Hawken is an able successor to the late lamented Basil Horsfall whose spirit lives on with the show although his presence may be gone.

Remembering the previous "Night in Vienna" of 1948 and "Cavalcade of Song" (1949), local music lovers anticipated "Melodies Immortal" with keen interest and they were not disappointed. Delightful memories of the previous production were kept green by this new offering which was on complete par if not excelling in some respects.

The fast-moving melodic program, made colorful with its introductory and closing numbers in costume, commenced with a full-dress scene from Julius Benedict's "Lily of Killarney," a musical version of the "Colleen Bawn," rendered with admirable lyrical expression and portrayed with stirring emotion by the full company.

The program ended with a familiar episode from Verdi's "Il Trovatore" with its high drama, also in costume.

Between the two impressive operatic excerpts the audience was treated with a succession of one hits which passed in quick and smooth sequence. Recitative sentimental, passionate, comedy, classic and straight ballad items were intermingled with selections from such unforgettable works as Friml's "Firefly," "Rose Marie" and "Vagabond King," Monckton's "Country Girl," Herbert's "Mlle. Modiste," "Princess Pat" and "Fortune Teller," Coward's "Third Little Show," Norton's "Chu Chin Chow," Offenbach's "Genevieve de Brabant," Verdi's "Rigoletto," Cole's "Girl From Kay's," Moncktons "Orchid," Ruben's "Miss Hook of Holland" and Lehar's "Land of Smiles," "Count of Luxembourg" and "Merry Widow." Solos, duets and quartettes all being admirably adapted to the talents of the artists.

Using only English translations of their renditions of scenes and songs from the operas and operettas, some of which are rarely heard except in foreign tongues, made the show completely understandable and, therefore the more delightful. Nor this did detract from the effectiveness of gestures and emotional outbursts of the artists.

Civic Centre Manager Don Forward was assisted in putting on the show by members of the Soroptimist club in the persons of Miss Muriel Vance, Mrs. Mattson and Mrs. J. J. Ehy who acted as usherettes.

The singers arrived in the city from Vancouver. They are now commenced on a tour of the province which will take them through the central interior by car with their next stand tonight at Terrace.

Gross revenue of the Canadian Post Office last year was almost $96,000,000 more than three times the 1934 figure.
