St. Peter's W. A. Fall bazaar, Nov. 3, 1949.
Regular Monthly Meeting, (with initiation of new members) Canadian Legion Hall, 8 tonight.

More visitors to Prince Rupert; here for the first time and somewhat perplexed about how to find their way about, complain of the lack of signs.

The longest day of the year will be Tuesday, June 21, but, as far as the average individual will know, there will not be much difference in any day, that week. Last evening was beautiful and twilight lingered until a late hour.

There are former residents of Winnipeg, living in Prince Rupert who recall Canon William Askey, who, with his wife was killed, a few nights ago when the car he was driving collided with a bus at Fort Garry. Serving as rector of All Saints Church, he had become very well known in Winnipeg.

Housing accommodation and room scarcity seem to be as much pronounced as ever. Hotels and lodging houses are mostly full. In some places, it has been necessary to rig up cots in the living rooms to take care of those applying.

Grant Stewart, local manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, left on today's plane for a brief business trip to Vancouver. He will return on the Chilcotin next Tuesday. Mrs. Stewart and two children are sailing tomorrow night for Vancouver to spend a vacation.

Instead of the regular weekly luncheon today, the Prince Rupert Gyro Club is having a dinner with the ladies tomorrow evening when final plans for the district convention to be held next week will be discussed. The active assistance of the Gyrettes in connection with some of the convention events has been lent.

Smart Parade By Job's Daughters

Promising another public appearance before long when more intricate precision military routines would be demonstrated, the local Job's Daughters girls' drill team made a brief appearance on Third Avenue in front of the Post Office Monday night and delighted many spectators with a simple marching display. Accompanied by the Prince Rupert Shrine Band, the girls were smart indeed in their snappy new outfits of black velvet boleros, white blouses, Royal Stuart pleated skirts, black tams and white and black saddle shoes. Alex Mitchell, speaking briefly, urged generous public support for the undertaking of sending the forty girls to a Job's Daughters international gathering at Spokane in August.

Mayor Nora E. Arnold will officially open a gypsy theme carnival at the Armories Thursday evening after another parade by the Shrine Club Band and costumed members of the organization from the Civic Centre.

Funds from the carnival will help finance the sending of the drill team to Spokane. There, they will compete with between 2,000 and 3,000 girls from Canada and the United States in the precision exercises which they have been practicing for several months.
