Burns Night At Stewart

STEWART—Scotland's National Bard was honored by the residents of Stewart on Saturday last in the Moose Hall. The affair, an annual one, was held under the auspices of the Stewart Branch of the Canadian Legion. President George Anderson was in the chair with Jack Bouzek as toastmaster.

Robert MacLeod ably proposed the "Immortal Memory", and C. G. Tran to the King, William S. Orr, proposed "The Lassies", responded to by Mrs. John McLeod. The "Toon" was proposed by William J. Crawford and responded to by Mrs. Sadie Young, chairman of the village commissioners.

The table was laden with good things including the "Haggis" which was piped in. As Comrade Orr gave the "Ode to the Haggis" the President stuck his knife and "warm reeking rich, o' what a sight". The clash of knives and forks

Between the BASKETS

League basketball will get under way again tonight with games in the Senior and Intermediate divisions. The Basketball Association is still curtailing its practice sessions, also Juvenile and Junior League games during the present power shortage. The Senior division is faced with a B. C. play-off within the next few weeks and have their own play-downs scheduled for mid-March. With three cancelled games to play at the end of the season it is felt necessary to get under way again now. Fashion Footwear and North Star will play the opener which will get under way as soon as the lights come on and Co-op and Bo-Me-Hi will play the feature game.

After dinner an adjournment was made to the ballroom where reels and square dances were the order of the evening. It was a big night.

Bob Hope In Comedy

Loaded with comedy aboard a transAtlantic luxury liner is Bob Hope's "Great Lover" which closes today at the Capitol Theatre after two days' run before large audiences.

With Rhonda Fleming as a seductive leading lady, Hope in this picture plays chaperone to a group of obnoxious Boy Foresters who are returning to America aboard the liner after a bicycle tour through France. He doesn't object when they forbid him to smoke or drink but does really object when they threaten to interfere with his romantic affairs.

A murder is also brought into the plot.

"Lucky Us" and "A Thousand Violins" are feature songs. Roland Culver and Roland Young are principal members of the supporting cast.
