FROM "FLYING" SAUCERS TO CARS!—There are few motorists who haven't wished at some time or another that their cars were fitted with wings to enable them to soar over the long, long line of traffic ahead. Now the dream is a reality. The aerocar which can be converted from an auto to an airplane in a few minutes is shown here at Longview, Texas, in road and aerial roles. At top you see it flying across country, below, converted back to road work. The changeover can be done by one person, without tools, memo or other equipment. The autocar, which can be kept in the home garage, has front-wheel auto drive and a pressure-air-cooled rear engine. The markers say that it is spinproof and has full provision for crosswind landings.

Scouts and Cubs— Father And Sons Gather

Terrace Banquet Has Some Prominent Visitors

TERRACE—"On behalf of the scouts and cubs I take pleasure in welcoming our fathers as special guests. We boys know what the name Dad stands for—understanding pal and teacher. Someone who plays ball with us when we are short a man and shares our adventures and when we misbehave, it's usually Dad who corrects us. Scouts and fellow-cubs, let us rise and toast the men who mean so much to us—Our Dads."

With these words Cub John Engeicke expressed the thoughts of his fellow cubs in welcoming their guests to the Father and Son Banquet in the Oddfellows' Hall last Friday evening.

White cloths covered the long banquet tables which were decorated with the green and gold colors of the Cub pack. Vases of daffodils and pussywillows stood in each table and green and gold covered baskets held the bread rolls. Decorated place cards stood at the place of each guest. It was an impressive setting and presented a pleasing appearance to the eye of all who entered the hall.

Proceedings opened with the singing of "O, Canada" followed by the ceremony of the raising of the flag by Cub Joe Sparkes.

The toast to the fathers, given well by the smallest cub of the pack, was responded to by E. S. Laird, High School principal, who said he wondered if the fathers always deserve the high praise given them in the toast just proposed.

Expressing his pleasure at being there, F. E. Anfield, district commissioner, was introduced to the gathering by the chairman, John Haaland, and said how grand it was for a place the size of Terrace to have such a large gathering as this. He gave his listeners food for thought as he congratulated the boys for their smart cubs. A cub is only as good as the support he gets for his pack, at home. Cubbing is the development of the whole boy, part of the whole program of life in making the boys of today the men of tomorrow. He bade the fathers to enter into partnership with the boys in cubbing—he cubmaster cannot do the work alone, for one of the greatest difficulties is continence. He made a plea for leaders saying that a young man could do nothing finer than to offer service in a cub pack.

Other speakers contributing to the enjoyment of the evening were Commissioner Haugland, Postmaster S. Kirkaldy, Terrace's first scout master; C. J. Norrington, one of the first scouts when the organization was newly formed over 40 years ago. Aaron Haaland who told of the scouts' trip to the first Canadian Jamboree last year; Constable Brue. Rev. Father Racette spoke of the impressiveness of the scene, the guests and discourses and how he uses the work of the boys if the parents showed no interest. Parents are needed to second the movement which is encouraged the world over. What the leaders are doing for the boys takes time and patience. He paid great tribute to John Haaland for his work with the youngsters.

Robert Pethwick, assistant cubmaster, then took charge of the "Going-Up" ceremony in which 11 boys passed into the scouts and were welcomed by scoutmaster Dick Dubeau. The promoted boys were: Victor Zaporzen, Alvin Hobenshield, Robert Cote, Teddy Clifford, Robert Irving, Jim Laird, Donald Julseth, James Wold, Roy Huebner, Jim Kurulok and George Munson.

Mr. Anfield presented Mrs. McGilvery with the Civilian Scout Badge, making her an honorary member of the Terrace Scout Association and thanked her for her work in providing such a splendid banquet. A "Grand Howl" was the cubs' appreciation of what had been done for them.

The lowering of the flag, followed by "God Save the King" closed the proceedings. As a last gesture, led by Mr. Anfield the whole gathering gave three cheers for Mr. Haaland, the popular cubmaster.

Grace was given by Rev. A. C. Shindel and benediction by the Rev. P. M. Mallett.

Including the presidents of the local organizations, invited guests were: W. Robinson, Dr. Mills, Dr. Black of Prince Rupert, Mr. Anfield of Prince Rupert, T. Harmon, Const. Brue, P. Murie, Father Racette, Const. Rogers, H. King, C. J. Norrington, B. R. Dodds, J. H. Stevenson, J. Spurrel, Miss F. Melvin, Mrs. Wold, Miss Booth, A. C. Calder, Mr. D. Cochrane, Rev. Mallett, D. Dubeau, Mr. Sharpe, Rev. Shindel, Mrs. McGilvery, convenor of the banquet. Helping her were Mrs. Hobenshield, Mrs. J. Julseth, Mrs. A. N. Jones, Mrs. Melvin, Mrs. Normandeau, Mrs. Cote, Mrs. Amdam, Mrs. Laird, Mrs. Murie, Mrs. G. Jackson, Mrs. R. Sparkes, Mrs. McIlroy, Mrs. Christy, Mrs. Engeicke, Mrs. W. Martin, Mrs. Van Stolk, Mrs. K. MacPherson, Mrs. James Lever, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. L. Newhouser, Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. J. Schultzik made and donated the lovely daffodils which decorated the tables.

Family Play Coming Here

Sequel to the delightful and pleasurable remembered "Dear Ruth," another charming family picture "Dear Wife" comes to the Capitol Theatre here this Friday and Saturday. It has the same stellar cast which made "Dear Wife" such a top-flight hit. William Holden, Joan Caulfield, Billy DeWolfe, Mona Freeman and Edward Arnold are assisted by Ar-amusing affairs of the Wilkins family.

Edward Arnold again plays his part as the judge, this time enmeshed in a political campaign, which sees him running for office against his own son-in-law, Holden. Miss Freeman, as a politically conscious bobby-soxer, gives an outstanding comedy portrayal. Assisting Holden in the campaign is Miss Whalen who arouses the jealousy of Holden's wife, Joan Caulfield, all of which pleases here former suitor, Billy DeWolfe.

"Dear Wife" has been hailed as one of the year's best comedies.

NO TITLE TO PLAYGROUND
City Clerk H. D. Thain, in a letter to the School Board last night informed the board that city council will not grant the title to the Conrad Street School playground.

Chairman Dr. R. G. Large declared that "we need something more certain than a letter (from city council) merely stating that the ground is available if we are going to build."

It was suggested that the council be asked for a lease on the property if a title cannot be acquired.
