ANNIVERSARY HOME OPENING

To mark the first anniversary of the opening of Kun Klaan Lodge, the Salvation Army's Native Girl's Home on Tatlow Street, a silver tea and sale of Box 645 home cooking is being held on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Guests will be received by Mrs. T. Gillingham and Mrs. Earl Jarrett and Adjutant Mrs. Chambers will preside at the pouring tables. Serviteurs will be Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Fladseth and Miss Mary Calder. Mrs. C. Carlson will be cashier and in charge in the kitchen will be Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Wilkie. In charge of the home cooking table will be Mrs. Waksdale and Mrs. Wil-

This Home has been greatly appreciated by the girls who have resided there throughout the year. Residents at the Home have included girls who are attending high school in the city, transients who have come to the city waiting for boats and trains and others in different circumstances who have been sent by the Indian Department, the city and social welfare.

The matron, Adjt. Mrs. Chambers, says 1256 beds have been provided and meals and other comforts generally provided. It is felt that the Home has done a real worth-while work during the year and, as it becomes better known, will prove itself of greater value to the com-are really a happy family and showed that preliminary inforafter studies often are found with the matron playing quiet games and otherwise enjoying themselves.

VICTIMS OF BRITISH CURRENCY REGULATIONS - Left without sufficient funds to return home to Kentucky, Mrs. Constance Reardon is shown with her son, Alan, 17 months, at La Guardia Field, New York, after arrival by plane from London. British customs confiscated 22 of her 32 English pounds under the law prohibiting a person from leaving the country with more than £10. The English war bride is enroute to Perryville, Kentucky, where she is awaited by her ex-infantryman husband, Leslie Reardon. She has been visiting her English folks. The airline on which she travelled lent her money to continue her journey.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR MUSIC AND DRAMA FESTIVAL

A progress report, given to the Those who are at present in monthly meeting of the Parentmation on the proposed music and drama festival is being rapidly assembled. When the initial organization work is completed, committee meetings will be called and the project outlined to the various groups. The Parent-Teachers' Council such small groups.

The Council will enquire as to the advisability of bringing to the city films suitable for Parent-Teachers' groups. One is titled "Eye Witness" and the the Prince Rupert Film Counil and J. S. Wilson, delegate to the Civic Centre, reported on the annual meeting of that association. Mr. Wilson said that reports showed a successful year. He stressed the need for full support of the Civic Centre by parents and suggested a larger membership as an answer to many of its problems.

Reports from the different Parent - Teachers' Associations were presented by delegates. These covered the matter of suitable sites for the proposed new school, school support of the Junior Red Cross, Poppy Day, collections for aid to the blind,

The schools should not be made ollection agencies, the delegates felt, but neither should the children forget their responsibilities loward less fortunate people. Total P.-T.A. membership is about 250, according to the delegates' reports. A discussion on study groups
