Finland To Negotiate With Russia

CANADIAN AT U.N.—Senior English announcer and presentation director for the radio section of the United Nations is Don Pringle, a Canadian from Fredericton, N.B., who joined U.N. in October, 1946. He spent 10 years in commercial radio in Canada and with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation before taking his present post, which makes him chief English contact with radio specialists of 30 nationalities. In Canada recently, Pringle, above, appeared on a Canadian radio program to urge a more optimistic attitude toward U.N. He believes emphasis given differences between the great powers has obscured much of the valuable work done by the world organization.

DEPORTATION NOT JUST YET

Under New Red Barring Authority Assumed by Federal Government

OTTAWA 6—For the time being authority of the Immigration Act will not be invoked to deport known or suspected communist aliens already in Canada but it is expected these will find it impossible to obtain renewal of their entry permits when they have expired. The decision of the cabinet to bar alien communists from the country is aimed particularly at Reds known to be entering Canada in recent years as labor union officials.

The barring of the communists from Canada was ordered by the federal government after it had received advice that it can do this under existing laws. An authoritative informant declared that the decision had been reached after weeks of legal study by the Department of Justice, culminating in a report to the cabinet this week that the present immigration act gives the government enough powers to shut out the Reds.
