RED CROSS AT TERRACE

TERRACE—At a meeting of the Terrace branch of the Canadian Red Cross in the Red Cross rooms on Friday evening, President Ralph Corey in the chair, plans were made for the membership drive and it was decided to defer the canvassing of private homes until after the opening of the hospital M. Dubeau is chairman of the membership drive and canvassers are being asked for.

Final arrangements were made with the hospital board for the opening of the hospital on Tuesday, March 16, and it was announced that Dr. Lamont, who is in charge of Outpost hospitals in British Columbia, will officiate at the opening. Miss M. Jack, supervisor of nurses for Outpost hospitals, will also be here. On that day,

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When should a woman remove her wraps when dining in the restaurant of a hotel?

A. She waits until she is seated before removing her wraps, the waiter or one of the men in the party assisting her.

Q. How should one greet friends and acquaintances when meeting them on the street?

A. Make the greeting courteously and sincerely. It would be better to pass without any sign of recognition than to acknowledge a greeting begrudgingly or in a listless manner.

afternoon tea will be served to all who attend and visitors will be conducted on a tour of inspection of the hospital.

DOUBLE TALK—Katy Turner looks so good in this fairy-landish setting that no one minds looking at her twice. Trees grow out of water in the Cypress Gardens, Fla., and the complete absence of any atmospheric motion short of the gentlest of zephyrs, gives the water the reflective surface of an expensive mirror.

PRINCE RUPERT, 1908

(This poem, written in the early days by a party of town-site engineers, was unearthed by Col. C. V. Eviitt, formerly of Prince Rupert and now visiting here from Vancouver Island. Prince Rupert is a vastly different place today.)

Have you ever heard of this famous town
A seaport of such great renown
Where everybody wears a frown—Prince Rupert.

Where mountains lie in East and West
Where north, eternal snow caps rest
Where flies and skeeters are a pest—Prince Rupert.

Where the harbor is wide and deep
Where octopus and reptiles creep
And many a brave warrior sleeps—Prince Rupert.

Where bear and wolves and deer abound
Where skeletons of chiefs are found
Where Indians now have lost their ground—Prince Rupert.

Where streams and rivers swiftly flow
Where countless fish swim to and fro
Up to the lakes, and spawning go—Prince Rupert.

Where streets and walks on mud-sills propped
Are squared and circled and interlocked
Where a Chinese puzzle would be shocked—Prince Rupert.

Where business houses on poles are set
With every storm a sad regret
Another building must be let—Prince Rupert.

Where shots and blasts are on every side
Where stumps and rocks fly far and wide
Where many a poor, hard worker died—Prince Rupert.

Where the sun is seldom ever seen
Where thunder and lightning has been seen
Where wind, storms, rain, reign supreme—Prince Rupert.

Where rubber boots, pants, coat and hat
With gun and blanket on your back
Is home where ere you hang your hat—Prince Rupert.

Where Poles and Swedes and French and Greeks
Where Japs and Chinks and niggers meet
Where Montenegrins take the lead—Prince Rupert.

Where murder, theft and robbery
Where suicides and drunks you see
Where a temperance town is supposed to be—Prince Rupert.

Where every man is iniquitous
Where every woman is injudicious
Where every dog is innocuous—Prince Rupert.

Where lonesome dreary times are spent
Where every wanderer does repent
Where every day to you is Lent—Prince Rupert.

No summer, winter, spring or fall
Where there's just one season—that is all
Where every day the rain does fall—Prince Rupert.

No parks, no lawns no flowers grow
No birds to sing, no sports, no show
No lover's lane where you may go—Prince Rupert.

Or is this in its infancy
This model city of mystery
The terminus of the G.T.P.—Prince Rupert.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J. and Reflections

When a friendly reception, folks will become mixed up with printer's ink.

With no ifs, buts or maybes, the province of Alberta declares against daylight saving in 1948. Everyone did not think alike although it did not take long to determine how most of the people were feeling. Farmers have precious little use for tinkering with time. In Alberta they are greatly in the majority and produce the crops. What they say should go a long long way.

When firemen respond to an alarm, today, it's a sight, but not a spectacle. Before the era of motor vehicles, it was the latter. First, the deep peals of the bell which meant "fire" to horses, as well as the men. Cooperation was flawless. The nags knew. Down dropped sus-ended harness on willing backs and in a matter of seconds they were pounding along a street that had suddenly become a right of way. They gave all they had, which was considerable. The driver found any urging unnecessary. He had his job to hang on to the reins. The full gallop, the sound of hoofs clattering on cobble stones, and glimpse of tossing manes was a show—full of action and color—and it was there for the taking.

GENUINE ASPIRIN IS MARKED THIS WAY

Hello Folks!

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmm!"
