Sport Shots

The New Zealand Rugby Union has confirmed its decision not to include Maoris in the team to tour South Africa next year owing to the color bar in that country. In spite of many protests—mostly from non-sports bodies—when the decision was announced, most footballers recognized that the ruling was inevitable in the circumstances and any reversal of policy was never really in prospect. The 30

J. Nicol (scratch) plays J. Bulger (scratch).
W. H. Fudger (x20) plays D. C. Stewart (scratch).
B. G. Simundson (x30) plays J. Bremner (x25).

R. McLeod (x10) plays R. E. James (x30).

H. Normand (x30) plays W. Strachan (x20).

Vic Duncan (x40) plays R. Marshall (x30).

Games will be to 150 points.

players chosen for the tour have been selected after several trial matches.

It is unfortunate in view of the color bar controversy that the weakest links in the teams are at scrum-half and centre-three-quarter positions, in which outstanding Maori players are available. However the selected team is a strong one. The average weight of the forwards is 200 pounds and some doubts are held whether several heavier men should not have been chosen in view of the weight of the South African team.
