

TERRACE BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

TERRACE—Mrs. C. W. Alger entertained at her home in honor of Miss Dorothy Cole whose marriage to Greg Siebert will take place this evening. As the guests entered the home they signed their names in a "Book of Remembrance" which was later presented to the bride-to-be. Her chair was decorated with white satin bows and, in an apt little poem, she was given the clues to the hiding place of a treasure of lovely gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. M. Alger. Among those present were Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Dover, Mrs. Steffanson, Mrs. A. Best, Mrs. McClelland, Mrs. D. Dubeau, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. R. Glanzer, Mrs. C. W. Alger, Mrs. M. Alger and Dorothy Cole.

TERRACE FAMILY REUNION LATER

TERRACE—The first white family to settle in the district were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frank and their four young children who arrived by river boat from Prince Rupert at the small settlement of Kitsumgallum on May 27, forty years ago. In the following years three more children were born here at the old farm on the banks of the Skeena.

The years have gone by, the family has grown up and scattered. Mr. and Mrs. Frank no longer work the farm. They live in town and the two oldest sons, Ivan and Floyd, operate it. Another son, Jack, has a sawmill at 7-Mile on the Lakelse road, while their oldest daughter, Ella, who is Mrs. T. E. Brooks, remained in Terrace. Three other daughters married and left the town.

This year a grand re-union was arranged but, due to flood conditions, could not be carried out. Mrs. Watt (Belle Frank) arrived here by plane from Calgary and Mrs. Woods (Mildred Frank) came by plane from Vancouver, but Mrs. Tallon (Dorothy Frank) of Endako could not get here in time so the re-union has had to be postponed.

SHORTHAND WRITERS ARE BECOMING SCARCE
MELBOURNE, Australia, 9.—A scarcity of shorthand writers is one of the main factors causing congestion in the courts here. "We're a dying race, and there's no substitute for shorthand in court work," said one of the official reports.

Whaling off the British Columbia coast continues active. Three ships employed off Coal Harbor, on a single Sunday, killed no less than six, bringing to a total of 22 the season's bag to date. The actual catch of the six was near Cape Cook. Coal Harbor is the whaling fleet's business base.

FRED GODWIN PASSES AWAY

Frederick Godwin, a 71-year-old pensioner and a resident of Prince Rupert for the last 20 years, died last night in hospital where he had been a patient periodically since last November, entering for the final time on May 9.

Born in Liverpool, England in 1877, Mr. Godwin served in the British Navy from 1895 until 1904. During his residence in Prince Rupert he served for a time as caretaker for the Yacht and Rowing Club. He also lived briefly at Queen Charlotte City.

Mr. Godwin was pre-deceased by his wife in 1912. A daughter, Mrs. Lydia McNee, lives in Liverpool.

Interesting Old Pictures Given

Interesting mementoes of the very earliest days of the port of Prince Rupert were presented to Capt. Ernest Caldwell, master of the steamer Prince George, during the maiden voyage call of the new Canadian National coastal liner at her home port here. They took the form of a series of photographs of the site of the present Canadian National dock before it was occupied, the driving of the first pile at the port, the first old wharf and pioneer buildings including the original post offices. Among some of the personalities to be seen in the pictures are Canon W. F. Rushbrook, J. H. Pillsbury and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh. It was Mrs. McIntosh who made the presentation.

SCHOOLS OUT FOR 14 YEAR OLD MOTHER—Fourteen-year-old Mrs. Patricia Wood of Los Angeles, Calif., retired temporarily from the ninth grade to handle a much more important assignment, a brand new baby daughter, Pamela Jane. With her 18-year-old husband, Ralph, Jr., Mrs. Wood gazes proudly on the new addition to the family. The young couple were secretly wed in Yuma, Arizona, last July.

Modern Etiquette
By ROBERTIA L.F.E.

Q. Does a well-bred person ever attempt to entertain a group of persons by relating the experiences of his recent illness or operation?

A. Never. Even if questioned, he will reply in as few words as possible and then change the subject.

Q. When a professional entertainer attends some social function, is it all right to ask him to perform?

A. Not unless it has been previously arranged. Otherwise, it is very presumptuous to ask him. Q. When should the evening musicale begin?

A. Ten o'clock; but many hostesses prefer to begin earlier, at about nine P.M.

Q. What kind of dress should a woman wear to an informal dinner?

A. Any pretty dress may be worn, with special attention to the coiffure.

COINED WORD
The word "gas" was invented by J. B. van Helmont to describe the gas now known as carbon dioxide.

KIDDIES' KAMP OPEN IN JULY

There is no evidence of water damage to the Kinsmen's Kiddies Kamp at Lakelse Lake according to word received from Leonard Casey who served as supervisor last year.

In a report to members of the Kinsmen's Club last night, George Dibb said Mr. Casey will again hold the position of camp supervisor and Mrs. Casey will be employed as camp cook. Arrangements have also been made to hire a man to do chores about the establishment.

President R. G. Moore reported that Miss Ellen Kinnaird of the social welfare branch had agreed to act as supervisor of the girls when their camp is in session.

The first camp is expected to get under way before July 1. This will be a 10-day outing for the boys and will be followed by a similar outing for girls. Through their May 24 elections and ticket sales the camp had hoped to greatly increase their camp fund but a report from Stan Saville showed that the amount of money available for the year is just equal to that of the year with the members decided to guarantee two camps this summer with the possibility of a third if the funds warrant it.

Guest at last night's meeting was Fred Orley of the marck, North Dakota.
