FINAL PLANS FOR FESTIVAL

Groundwork Well Laid for Drama and Music Exposition

The groundwork for Prince Ru-pert's second annual Music and Drama Festival has been laid, according to committee reports heard at Association meeting held Tuesday night in the Civic Centre.

Peter Lien, assisted by Mrs.
G. D. Mead and Mrs. E. J. Smith, provided a comprehensive synopsis for the musical division of the festival. The various grades for vocal and instrumental classes have been worked out in detail and test pieces, which are now available locally were listed.

For the past few weeks Miss Jean Urquhart has been busy preparing and mailing out information and application forms to potential participants. More than 80 contacts have been made and, although the entry deadline is not until March 12, a number of applicants have already signified their intention of taking part in the festival.

Hazleton High School plans to send a cast to take part in the Drama competitions.
Massett has also notified the Association that they expect to enter a group in the Drama division.

No official applications for entry in the vocal or instrumental classes have been received yet from out of town but Armine Boas reported that he has been assured of a number of entries from the interior.

This year, as last, the major number of participants will be drawn from the local schools.
Although most of the classes in the musical division of the festival will be non-competitive, there will be competition in the junior choir class and piano solo and duet classes.

President R. D. Cleland reported that, although the drama branch of the Department of Education will supply an adjudicator for the drama classes, it might be necessary to seek the services of another qualified person to adjudicate the music.
In order that there will be no further delay in making the required contacts, Mr. Cleland was authorized to conclude adjudication arrangements.

In the drama division of the festival silver cups will be presented to the winners of the various classes and Mrs. Alex MacKenzie, chairman of the awards committee, reported that
