

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If one does not hear the name of the person to whom he is introduced, is it correct to ask that the name be repeated?

A. It is correct to say, "How do you do? I am sorry I did not hear your name." Address yourself directly to the stranger when you wish to have the name repeated.

Q. What is the correct way to extend invitations to a christening?

A. As the christening ceremony is an intimate one, it is customary to invite guests by personal notes or by telephone.

Q. What does the best man in a wedding wear?

A. Exactly the same attire as the bridegroom, except that the bridegroom's boutonniere is more elaborate.

"NO HANDS" TELEPHONE IN AUSTRALIA—A desk telephone into which a subscriber can speak and listen without using either hand is being successfully marketed in Australia. Main feature of the invention is a steel spring arm which holds the receiver to the ear. The device leaves the hands completely free for note taking. The flexible arm can be adjusted for position and height to suit the user as he sits at his office desk.

A new corn culture, which and if it is finally proved successful it will not only produce yields of increased yields so large bumper corn crops, but will as to be fantastic, is available probably change methods of to amateurs this year. Still in growing many other crops. The experimental stage, it. There is no better place to try should be used only with the this new culture than on a small understanding that it is risky. patch of sweet corn in a home. No special skill is involved, garden. The soil should be well you merely sow your corn closer fed, with at least 4 pounds of together than you have ever plant food to each 100 square done before; spray the field with 2,4-D, after sowing then go away and don't bother to cultivate. Come back only when you dust with D.D.T. to kill the borers.

Experiment stations that have tried this system say the 2,4-D, applied to the soil in about the same strength used on the lawn, keeps weeds from growing until the corn is tall enough to shade the ground. Since there is no cultivation, the plants can be grown as close as a foot apart each way. The roots are undisturbed by garden tools, the soil remains loose and porous because the plants prevent rains from beating it down.

This culture, in short, abandons many practices which the most advanced scientists have been attacking for several years, feet. Use hybrid varieties of sweet corn. If the corn borer is active in your vicinity, when the plants are knee high dust them with five per cent D.D.T. Repeat this in 10 days, as a minimum protection. It is better to dust four times, five days apart. Seed should be sown as soon as danger of frost is over. If you wish to cultivate, space the rows of early varieties two feet apart, later and taller kinds three feet apart.

A sowing should be made in four short rows rather than in a single row. This insures that when the pollen is ripe, a cross wind will carry it to the silk in the young ears of an adjoining row, rather than wasting it on the ground, as might be the case in a single row. Each silk must be fertilized by pollen, in order to produce a kernel, and many failures with corn are traceable to poor pollination.

In drills, sow three or four seeds to a foot, later to be thinned out to six inches apart for dwarf growing varieties or a foot apart for tall ones.

Deep cultivation of corn must be avoided because the plants have shallow roots; but all weeds should be kept down and the soil stirred, to break its crust until the plants are half grown. Side shoots and suckers need not be removed.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He wasted the better part of his fortune."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "really"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Nuisance, neuter, nutritious.

4. What does the word "flagitious" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with inu that means "to overgrow"?

ANSWERS

1. Say, "He wasted most of his fortune." 2. Pronounce real-i, e as in me, and three syllables, not rill-i. 3. Neuter. 4. Shamefully criminal. "No villainy or flagitious action was ever yet committed that a lie was found to be first or last the principal engine to effect it."—South. 5. Inundate.
