It's Not Just Luck—

"He's always lucky in transplanting things." One often hears a comment like that in the spring or fall when trees, shrubs, vines and other things that come under the heading of nursery stock are being planted or moved. But it's not luck at all. It is merely knowing how.

prices of rose plants, shrubs and trees, and there is even a wider variation in quality. Good healthy stock is green, pliable, moist and equipped with sound buds, but not in leaf. It is only with such stock that one can be "lucky." When purchased, good stock will be well wrapped to keep in moisture and keep out the air, especially about the roots. The buyer should make sure he keeps it that way.

If not ready to plant immediately the stock should be "heeled in," that is, planted in a shallow trench with soil pressed firmly about roots and over the lower part of stem.

In planting permanently it is well to plant a little deeper than previously, spread roots out well, cover firmly with a fine, rich soil, water well, then tramp down hard. A small tree or shrub usually needs a full pail of water and if it doesn't rain there should be more watering for the first few weeks. Trees should be tied firmly to a stake for the first year. This will give the tiny, new roots a chance to get firmly fastened in the new location. Without these fine roots the stock will die of starvation.

Can Make Good Soil—It's amazing what one can do with even the most unpromising soil. For confirmation all that is necessary changes should be made but were divided on the nature of the changes.

Interest in North

Mr. McRae spoke of the congenial attitude all the ministers displayed at Victoria in regard to Prince Rupert. All departments were showing a keen interest in the development of this part of the country and everywhere he went there was an apparent desire to co-operate.

With work of the straightening out and resurfacing of the highway from Prince Rupert city limits to Galloway Rapids now under way and the public works department resolved that it must be speeded up, a survey of the section from Galloway Rapids to Port Edward is about to be undertaken with a view to similar improvements, Mr. McRae said.

As for the road to Terrace there would be a more active program of resurfacing and crushed rock laying this year. Mr. McRae was assured at Victoria. He was confident that, as soon as traffic showed signs of justifying it, the road would be kept open year around. Mr. McRae expressed belief that logging operations at Terrace for the Watson Island celanese mill would bring about that increased traffic almost immediately. (In the Legislature Mr. McRae had strongly advocated keeping the Prince Rupert-Terrace road open throughout the winter.

Discussion of oil and gas pipe lines from Alberta to Pacific Coast had loomed large at Victoria, Mr. McRae said. Favor was expressed for a line through Yellowhead Pass and thence to the coast through British Columbia in a resolution that had been passed, Mr. McRae himself being the seconder. It was felt that the supply to British Columbia should be protected before any exporting was permitted.

Mr. McRae spoke of the matter of housing and expressed surprise to hear that Prince Rupert had not even done the simple preliminary of surveying the needs for housing here by the distribution of questionnaires. There should be no further delay. The city certainly needed housing and he felt the scheme of government assistance could very well be taken advantage of here. He hoped there would be no further delay in the local preliminaries being undertaken.

is to look at what some city gardeners have done with the assorted blue clay, mortar and broken bricks some builders have used for grading up the backyard. Almost anything will disintegrate in time and what won't be hauled away or used for drainage. With very heavy soil and lying fairly level some drainage is needed. With large plots this can be done by installing tile drains although an open ditch will be a lot cheaper and may do well enough.

After this, treatment for very heavy or very light soils is about the same. The main thing is to get in plenty of humus and cultivate. Humus is simply a high class name for ordinary manure. Grass cuttings, straw or even just green weeds and other plants. The more of this stuff that is dug in the more open and porous the soil becomes. Where possible it's a good plan to grow a crop of clover, fall rye, oats or some rank-growing thing and dig or plow this under. After a few years' treatment even in the toughest or most barren soil becomes mellow and, as he old timers say, friable.
