Timely Topics from Terrace

The Ladies' Guild to the Knox United Church held the April meeting last Friday in the church basement. Each member brought a cup and saucer and the proceeds of a silver collection purchased a teapot, all of which will be needed for future entertainments. It was decided to ask for the use of the Red Cross rooms for the Friday of next to make over old clothes for the European refugees. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

At a joint meeting of the members of the Canadian Legion and Women's Auxiliary held last Wednesday night in the Legion club room, Bill Watson gave a humorous account of his recent stay in Shaughnessy Military Hospital and the Hyercroft Convalescent Home. Welcomed by President Sam Kirkaldy, there were about 15 of the ladies present. Arrangements were made for the Vinny Ridge dance which is being held on April 9. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Legion members.

Mrs. C. L. M. Giggey is a surgical patient in the hospital here.

The regular monthly meeting of the Terrace Parent-Teacher Association was held in the primary school last Thursday evening. There was a poor attendance, due, no doubt, to the Easter holidays, and, as there were not enough for a quorum, routine business could not be disposed of. The president announced that the play which the P. T. A. had hoped to stage at the beginning of May was making no progress at all. Players had dropped out faster than they could be replaced and, at present, a leading man was needed and no one could be found to take the part. Time was getting on now and it was felt that if it were postponed to the fall there would be better cooperation from the P. T. A. members. The next meeting will be held in the primary school on May 6 when Mrs. H. Philip will give her report on the Parent-Teacher convention which was held in Vancouver during Easter week and to which she was the Terrace delegate.

FRANCOIS LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. P. Ball and Dick are staying at Paradise Lodge with Mr. and Mrs. Tierney until the ferry crosses the lake again so that they can go home to Moosehorn Lodge, Uncha Lake. They spent the winter near Pasadena, California.

The roads are starting to break up and heavy traffic is not allowed.

People are walking across the lake every day and the ice appears quite strong.

There is a charming picture of little Everead Hickey on the cover of the Family Herald this week. He is sitting in the meadow with a litter of pigs around him.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Radley left by car on Wednesday for Abbotsford where they expect to live. Mrs. Peterson has bought a house with half an acre of land in Burnaby. Ruby and Bobby will live with her.

Miss Mary Gilgan and George Axen were married on Tuesday and their wedding dance was at the Institute Hall here the same evening. The hall was crowded with well-wishers.

FRANCOIS LAKE FAIR MEETING

FRANCOIS LAKE—On Friday evening there was a meeting of the Fair Board at Mrs. Lee Cooper's home, with eleven present. Mrs. Clarence Snyder has undertaken the position of Secretary-Treasurer. It was a busy meeting and the revision of the Fair List was completed. Mrs. Cooper served lunch at the close of the meeting.

FUMIGATED ATHENS

Acrion, a Greek physician, is reputed to have originated fumigation in 473 B.C., when he halted a plague in Athens by burning aromatics in great fires.

IMMIGRANTS SUPERIOR IN HOME—FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS SATISFIED WITH EUROPEAN HOME DOMESTIC

OTTAWA—Domestics, coming from among displaced persons in Europe, continue to give great satisfaction in many Canadian homes. This seems to be particularly true of Ottawa.

One maid, described as a nurse from Germany is called "better than a doctor."

Another is regarded as much better than any maid ever experienced before. Of her, the mistress says: "In two days she learned to operate the vacuum cleaner, toaster, iron and every piece of equipment we have in the house."

Said Mrs. H. L. Keenleyside, formerly Katherine Pillsbury of Prince Rupert, referring to the domestic in her home in Ottawa: "Intelligent, good-natured, very willing to work and speaks English most perfectly. Much better than any Canadian maid. Don't forget that those girls have been through a lot and appreciate what we take for granted."

Mrs. Keenleyside is the wife of the deputy minister of mines and resources and daughter of J. H. Pillsbury, under whose direction the town site of Prince Rupert was surveyed.

WANTED—Second hand bath tub in good condition. Apply Box 326 Daily News. (107)

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Koch returned to Terrace on Monday night after a holiday spent in the south where they purchased a new car. It took them five days to drive from Vancouver, as the roads were in a very bad state from Clinton on, the last 30 miles being the worst of all.

Mrs. Norman McNabb is now able to be up and out again after having spent the past two months confined to her home through illness.

Rev. R. Hills left Terrace on Monday night's train for Spokane where he will make his future home. A lot of his old friends were at the depot to see him off. In the meantime, it is not known yet who will take his place in the Anglican church here.

Carl and Ellen Richmond returned to their home in Burns Lake after spending the Easter holidays with relatives and friends in Terrace.

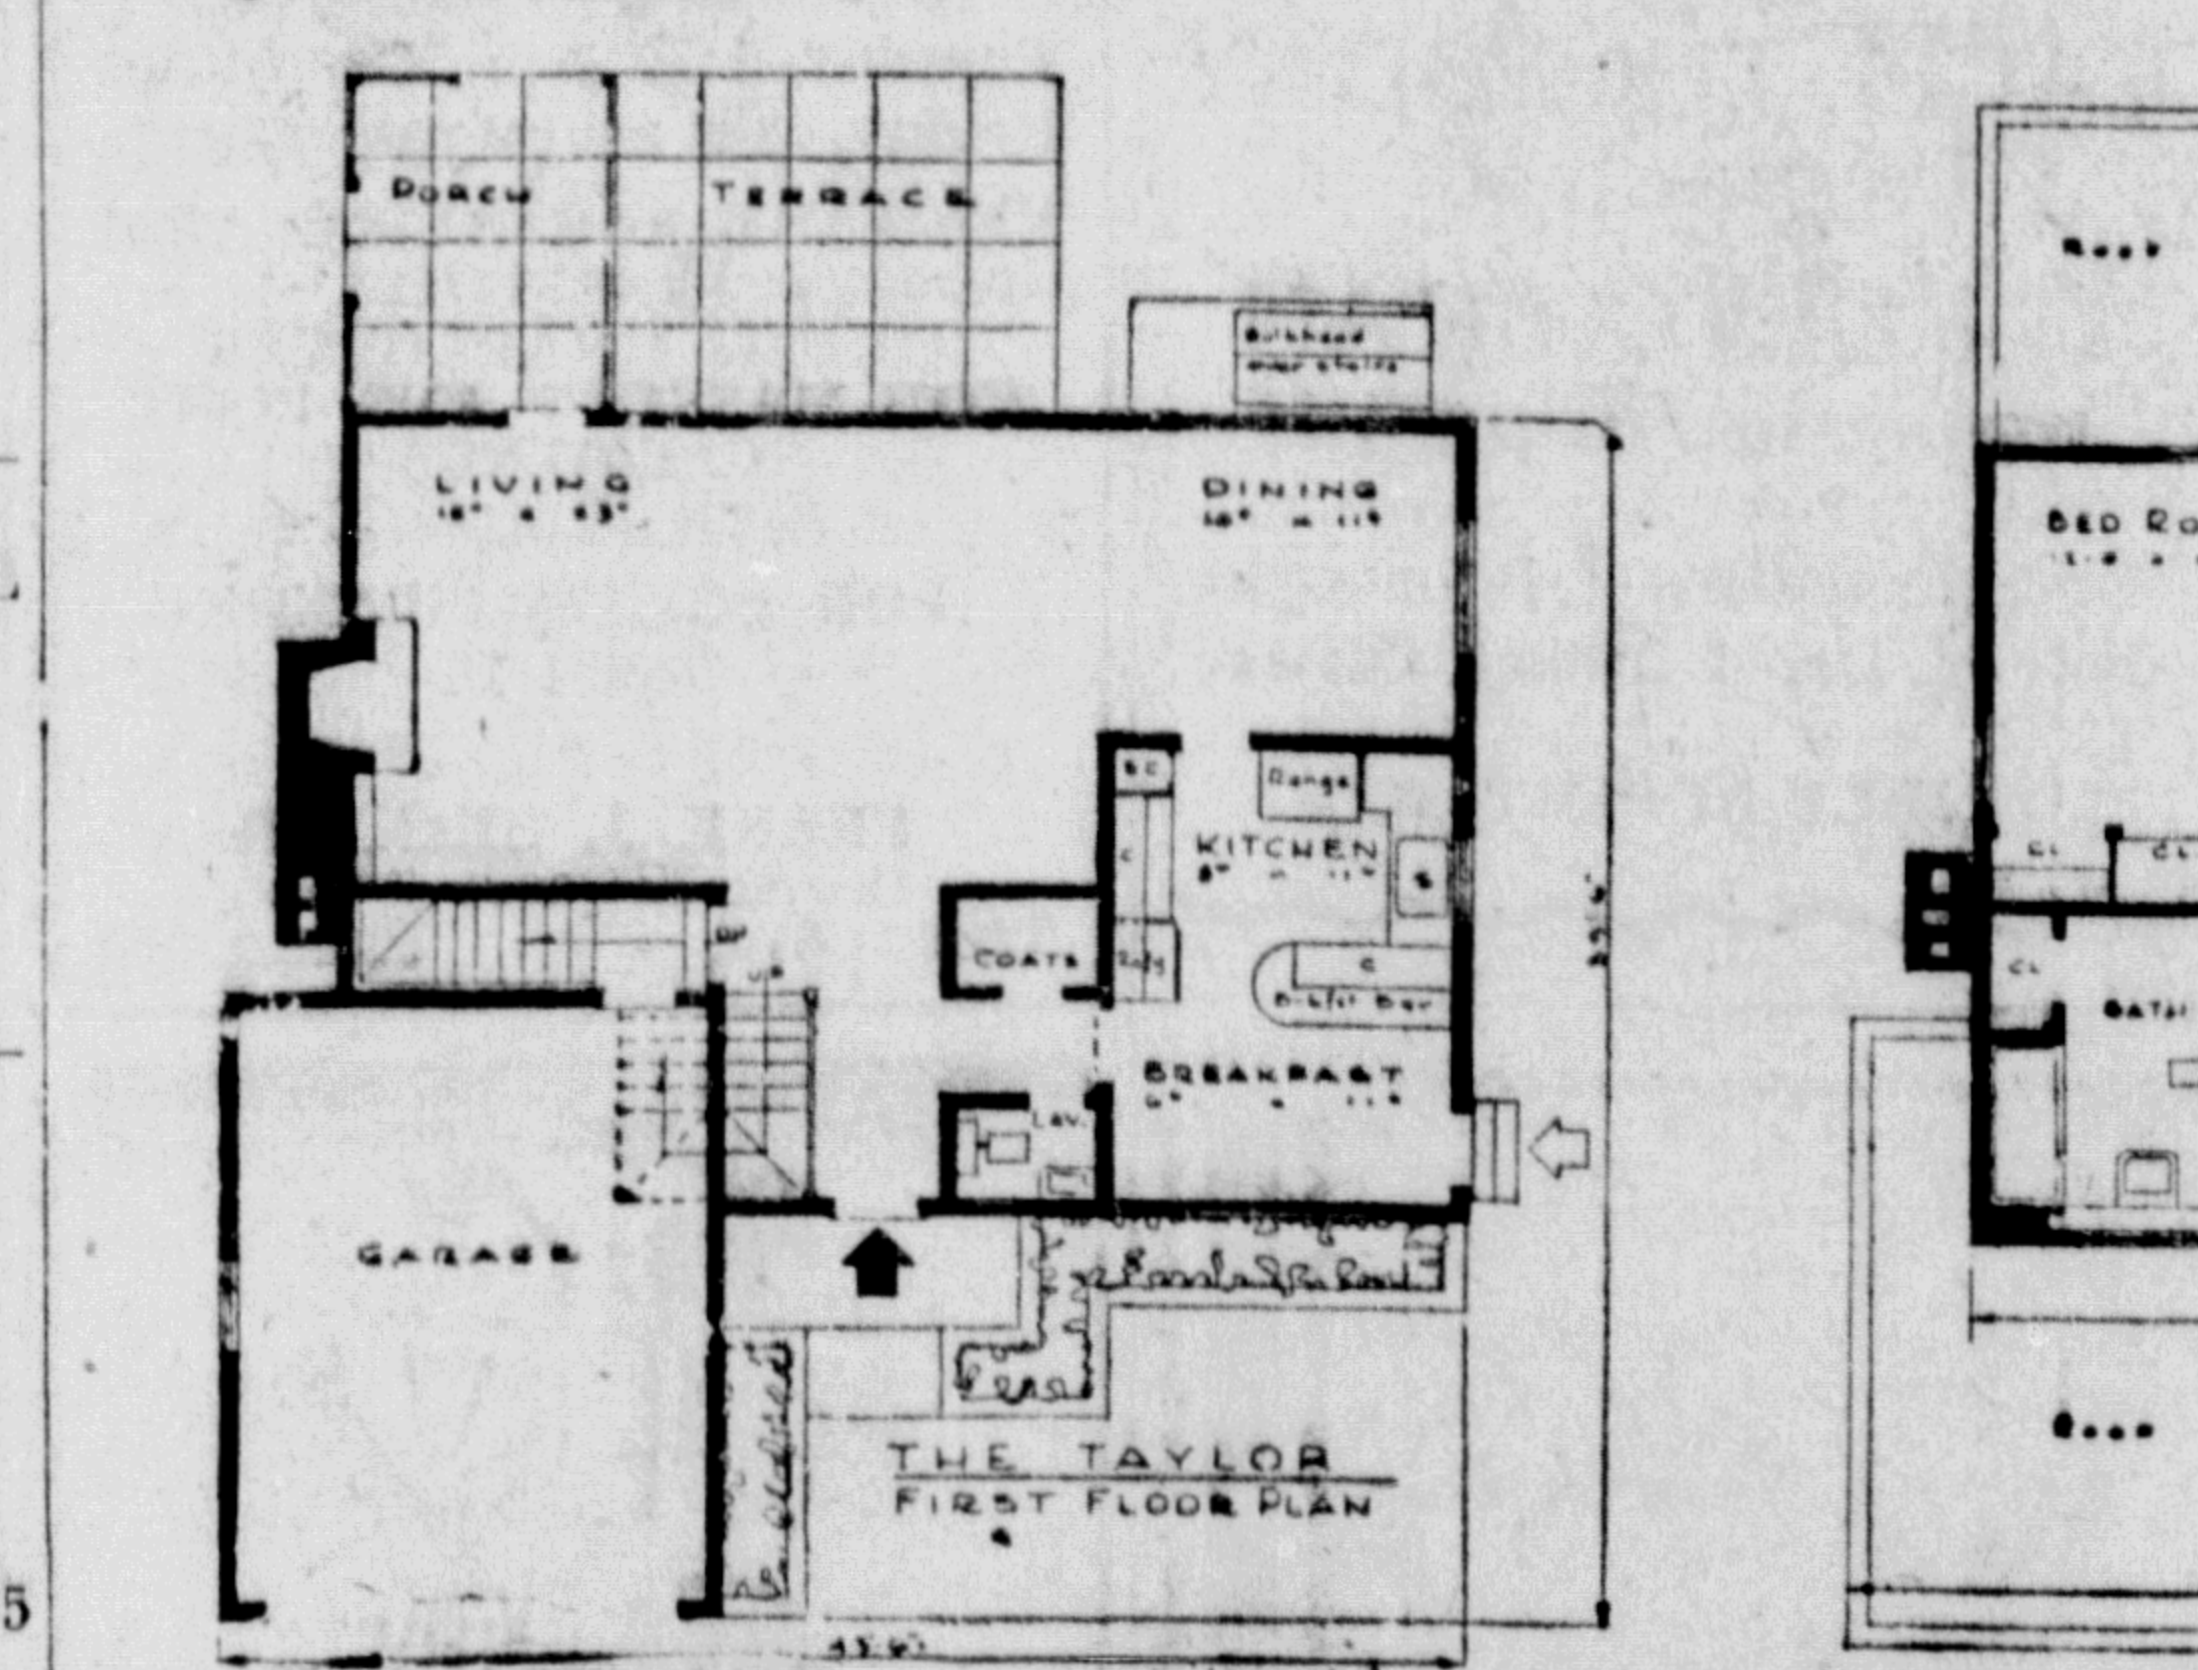

Bud Sheen of Salmon Arm has been spending a few weeks here with his mother, Mrs. Barney Colbachini, who will accompany him when he returns to his home at Salmon Arm.

Princess Rupert Chamber of Commerce and Vancouver Board of Trade are joining forces in making discretionary representations with a view to having the United States government suspend operation of the Jones Act with a view to permitting Canadian vessels to carry freight as well as passengers to Alaska ports. Canadian ships, it is felt, would be glad to get the business and availability of Canadian ships might relieve the situation in Alaska.

Suspension of Jones Act Is Being Sought

THE TAYLOR—Modern lines distinguish this six room, two-story house, the TAYLOR. Pictured here it is finished in wide clapboard laid 3, to the weather to the top of the parapet around the second story sun deck. Above the parapet level flush siding makes a perfect background for the triple-sash casement windows. The house would look equally appropriate built of cement cinder block with a plaster coat of smooth white stucco.

In addition to its six rooms and bath it has an attached garage, a good sized breakfast room adjoining the kitchen, a first floor lavatory and a full basement with ample space for the heating plant, laundry and for a large recreation room.

The living room is 25 feet long. A dining "L" 11½ feet deep extends the living room to over 36 feet for large parties. It opens into a rear covered porch which in turn is supplemented by a large open terrace. The stairs rise out of a spacious hall off which the coat closet and the lavatory open. The front door is reached from the kitchen without passing through the living room. The breakfast room is 11½ feet by 6 feet. The location of the garage eliminates the necessity for a long driveway and turn-around.

The three bedrooms on the second floor are large and with abundant closet space. Two of them open onto the canvas covered deck, which is ideal for sun bathing and outdoor sleeping.

Although the TAYLOR is larger than most of the houses that have been built during the period of war shortages, war costs and war restrictions, its simple straightforward lines and its unbroken hipped roof make it an economical house per cubic foot of available space.

THE TAYLOR

"A lot of people," mused the Old Timer this morning, "get the idea that Communists and Socialists are just reformers in a hurry."

"They aren't, of course. They are each following a complete political philosophy, and such reforms as they advocate are for the most part just means of gaining wider influence so that they can bring the people to acceptance of the rest of their doctrines, which do not constitute reform at all but a complete revolution in the social system."

"You only have to watch proceedings in a country such as Czechoslovakia to see how it operates. The Communists and some of the Socialist parties were after reforms in a hurry—supposedly. They worked together, got some key positions in the government, started to brand everyone who opposed them in the slightest degree as reactionaries. Then when they judged the time was ripe they announced discovery of a plot for the overthrow of the government by these so-called reactionaries, sent out their police and 'action committees' to arrest and purge all opposition, and grabbed complete control."

"Now all judges, politicians, editors, school teachers and so forth have to be Communists, or else. There is complete control of the press, the radio, education, even the Boy Scout movement. Democracy in Czechoslovakia is finished, and it will be a long time before this freedom-loving people knows the breath of freedom again."

"They preached reform, but what they wanted was a dictatorship, their dictatorship, and the people who listened to them should know better now, and so should people everywhere."
