Faith In Man Is Needed Today

Rev. L. G. Sieber Discusses Current International Situation

In his sermon on "Our Faith in Man," at First United Church Sunday morning, Rev. Lawrence G. Sieber gave a challenging address on the part that man can and must play in the world. As mere animals men do not accomplish much but as children of God they have endowments that will enable them to move forward and upward. A commentator had said that the characteristic of the Nineteenth Century was man's inability to believe in God, whereas the characteristic of the Twentieth Century was man's inability to believe in himself. This was responsible for the increasing frequency of war and the larger areas affected by them. It was a notable fact that no creeds affirmed their faith in mankind. They all looked to a higher source. The conflict between the classical theory that man was essentially good and the Christian view that man was essentially evil was a challenging one. Man was created in the image of God and could make the choice.

Popular education, with its accompanying overall literacy, had had its disturbing effects. The radio, the press, magazines had often been media for propaganda of a cheapening instead of an elevating philosophy of living. But man was in a state of confusion. His problem was to learn to live together in the world. When he did so there would be no such problems as in the Korean situation. The creed of the Communist that all classes must give slavish obedience to the ones who gained power could only bring disaster. Man must regain faith in himself. That he could do by using the reason, judgment, and conscience that are his by virtue of his having been created in the image of God. In that faith, material differences would be composed and the triumph of the spiritual would bring all peoples in to one brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God.

The children's story was very acceptable and helpful. Miss Margaret Large was organist and the summer choir provided the leadership for the singing. The outstanding musical number was the singing of the solo, "Panis Angelicus," by Dr. W. J. Mahabir. Dr. Mahabir's fine tenor voice was heard to advantage in his splendid rendering of this famous selection.

Be Thrifty... Be Smart...
Make Jams and Jellies
this Easy,
SHORT-BOIL
way

5 reasons why it pays to make jams and jellies the modern, Short-Boil way with CERTO Crystals

While fruit is plentiful make enough jam and jelly to fill your shelves. Get CERTO Crystals at your grocer's.

CERTO FRUIT PECTIN
Crystals

1 It's so easy to make jams and jellies with CERTO Crystals—the pectin product in crystals form that helps all fruits to jell perfectly.

2 A ONE-MINUTE full, rolling boil only is needed with CERTO Crystals. This cuts down time needed for making jam and jelly by two-thirds!

3 NATURAL TASTE and COLOR. The boil is so short it does not dull the lovely, fresh color or spoil the delicious, fresh-fruit taste.

4 YOU AVERAGE 50% MORE jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit because you save all the precious juice that wastes away during long boiling.

5 ENDS GUESSWORK. There are tested recipes for each kind of fruit in Crystals. Follow the simple directions EXACTLY to get SURE RESULTS.
