Jottings

This department, as everyone else, is gravely concerned about the power and water situation. Everyone is talking about it so why should this column delve further? Cheerier topics must exist.

Take moving pictures for instance. I have seen many moving pictures and the theme is always the same. Beautiful, exotic Veronica is involved in an international gang of false teeth peddlers. The plot deepens. Federal agent Dan McWho is on the trail. He meets beautiful, exotic Veronica. He snarls, slaps her, kicks her in the shins and throws her against the door. She loves it.

The chase is on. Veronica, armed with inside information, and Dan McWho, who never carries a revolver because of certain MEMORIES, run through a few hundred feet of celluloid and, after a lengthy battle, at which time the hero licks a gang of 20 muscle bound thugs his hat remains constantly on his noggin. Veronica is forgiven because she aided Dan and because her grandmother is sick with water on the knee back in Wichita. They are happily married and raise little McWho's.

Then there is Hedda Hopper the girl who knows every star's business better than the star does. She opens her broadcast:

president, cited among outstanding events the district convention here and the opening of the new McClymont Park swimming pool. A past president's pin was presented to Mr. Brydges by O. G. Stuart.

A. J. Dominato, the new president, spoke briefly and humorously in taking over the responsibilities of office. He pledged service to the best of his ability.

Mayor G. W. Rudderham was unable to be present to bring the greetings of the city but R. G. Van der sluis and Ed Garner were present with the felicitations of Rotary and Kinsmen's Clubs respectively.

An appropriate musical incident on the Burns anniversary was the singing by Dr. R. G. Large of "The Star o' Rabble know? Elsie McSwine left for Reno today and there is a CERTAIN somebody known as—but ah, ha, I can't tell you who and bla bla...

And why does everybody think Ingrid Bergman committed a crime by visiting Roberto? If she feels like being with Roberto, she feels like being with Roberto. That's all there is to it.

Here are several ways of enjoying moving pictures:

1. Do not attend moving pictures.
2. If you do, stop attending.
3. If you cannot stop the desire of stepping into a movie house, think of your financial resources. This is a prescribed cure.
4. (a) It is said the best judge of yourself is yourself.
- (b) One or two stars attend their own pictures.
