Another Fishing Season

IT IS TIME to again say farewell to our good men of the sea as the fishermen depart for the halibut banks for the opening of the season this week-end. Later the most of them will engage in other pursuits. Our fishermen have long been the mainstay of our economy and, as a matter of fact, they may still be called the salt of the earth as far as we are concerned.

Ray Reflects . . . and Reminisces

None of the wire services had a whisper of it. Yet, inquirers vowed the other night, that over the radio they had heard something about Harry Truman having been killed. A quick check disclosed he was all right. Yet, how come? It was like this. Over in Scotland, this summer, thousands of the McLeod clan will gather at the ancestral castle.

It is passing strange how a lot of us still try to believe, glibly yet sincerely, there is a source of supply known as "pie in the sky." If a man makes a strong effort he can believe about anything. Social security has to be paid for and the ducats come out of national income and production, or in other words, plain, everyday work.

As there appears to be about standing room only in Nelson jail, someone with a grudge against Nanaimo suggests that any more misbehavin' Sons of Guns live in a camp in the Nanaimo district. So, cock your ear, and list to the long, low cries of condemnation from the general direction of Vancouver Island.

Clear, Cool In Interior

In the interior country between Prince Rupert and Jasper, weather remains cool, with occasional light snow flurries, reports Superintendent C. A. Berner, Canadian National Railways, who returned to the city last Saturday. There is little or no sign of high water anywhere, not even any run-offs, he remarked. Unlike conditions in parts of the south and east, particularly in Manitoba, there are no indications of floods as yet.

The "oven bird" or hornero of Uruguay builds a two-room house of mud and straw atop fenceposts or telegraph poles in the South American cow-country. Sometimes they make additions up to six or seven floors.

HE'S LATE

... in coming to your door, Mr. Canadian employer, but he deserves the same consideration you extended so well to veterans immediately after VE day.

He has much to offer. He's proven in several ways that he is willing to sacrifice time and pleasure to gain an objective—his latest, a degree after a long "unavoidable" absence from school.

If you can employ a graduate, or offer summer employment to an undergraduate, please phone or write the Executive and Professional Officer at your nearest NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE office, NOW.
