WORLD CHAMPION MILK PRODUCER—Drooling as she dreams of past benders is "Bridge Birch," the 8-year-old cow who became the world's champion milk producer on a diet of stout. Stout, if you are not familiar with the stuff, is a drink comparable to beer, except that it is almost black and heavier bodied. Primed with stout, Bridge Birch produced 20 tons (4,508 gallons) of milk in a year to beat the U. S. record of 3,900 gallons on the 329th day. But now that the hard-working bovin has won top laurels, they've put her on the wagon. No more stout. Can you blame her for looking so sad, even when cheered up by the herdsman's cute little daughter? Owner is a London, England, haulage contractor who farms week-ends only.

N.H.A. DESIGN-OF-THE-MONTH

An attractive five-room house with a pleasing exterior and efficient plan, this one-storey "N.H.A. Design-of-the-Month" selection is suitable for construction anywhere in Canada. A modern two-bedroom house, it was designed primarily for a wide inside lot but could be built on a corner lot without alteration.

The house could also be built on a narrow property providing the plan was rotated so that the dining and living rooms were towards the front of the house and the entrance at the side. This would necessitate re-location of the fireplace and living, dining and bedroom windows.

Financial assistance for building new houses such as the one illustrated is available to Canadians under the terms of the National Housing Act, 1944.

The entrance hall, which provides direct access to most rooms, may also be altered to provide a vestibule or to completely seclude the bedroom portion by the addition of doors to divide the hall into two or three separate areas.

The living room is reasonably large and features a fireplace with flanking bookcases. The dining space is planned for a modern dining suite while the kitchen is efficiently designed to reduce work to a minimum. Direct access to the rear yard and basement simplifies supervision of children's activities.

The bedrooms are provided with ample clothes closet space while large unbroken wall areas facilitate the placing of required furniture. Conveniently located between the bedrooms, the bathroom is of a generous size. Good-sized linen and coat closets greatly enhance the facilities of the house.

The exterior finish of the main body of the house in the photograph is cedar grain asbestos shingles applied over wood framing. Wood siding is applied vertically on the gable ends. However, other types of exterior finish could be used if desired. The exterior dimensions would have to be increased approximately one foot if brick veneer or solid masonry construction is proposed. The floor area, for estimating purposes, is about 900 square feet.

Complete construction drawings for this plan, known as Design No. 47-8, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.
