Halibut Season Ending This
Sunday—Many Warships
Being Asked Here

The 72-day halibut season in Area Three officially closes at midnight Sunday bringing an end to the shortest season on record. Landings for the season have been somewhat slimmer at Prince Rupert than in the immediate past years but those from Canadian and American vessels will have exceeded the 12,000,000-pound mark by the time the last boat unloads here next week.

Landings at this port up to Friday totalled 10,796,000 pounds, of which more than 9,000,000 pounds were from Canadian vessels. This includes Area Two landings of 7,174,000 pounds. Area Two closed on June 1 after a 32-day season. The Area Three season will have lasted 72 days when the deadline closes Sunday night.

The last two weeks have seen heavy landings from the large boats fishing in Area Three. Most of the fish brought here has come in Canadian vessels during that time and loads of 50,000 to 65,000 pounds have not been uncommon.

Capt. Haakon Selvar of the American halibut boat Oceanus brought his vessel to Prince Rupert Thursday with engine trouble and decided that he would sell his catch of 34,000 pounds at the same time. He put it on the exchange where prices of 21.6 cents for medium and 20.5 and 10.5 cents were offered.

With his engine apparently repaired, Capt. Selvar reconsidered and decided that he would continue on to Seattle and sell his catch there where he could get a higher price. So he cleared southward.

However, he had scarcely gone beyond the mouth of the harbor when engine trouble beset the Oceanus again and he was forced to turn back to Prince Rupert. This time he sold his fish to Pacific Fisheries.

The Union steamer Catala docked here Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with a large passenger list and heavy cargo from Vancouver. She sailed again three hours later for the south touching some of the Skeena River canneries enroute. In addition to her heavy list of coast passengers, she carried 28 round-trippers all of whom seemed to be enjoying the leisurely trip. The Coquitlam on the Islands run carried 40 round-trip tourists. She sails tonight on her return to Queen Charlotte Island ports and Vancouver.

Capt. Percy Pierce's halibut boat Rodney P., which suffered the indignity of capsizing at the Co-op grid on Thursday, has been righted and examination shows little damage except that done by the water in her interior. The Rodney P. reversed her position on the grid, then heeled over after she found her mooring lines loose while she was up for a hull painting. Mutterings of sabotage have been heard in the Cow Bay area. The Armour Salvage Co. derrick scow raised the vessel.

It will look like fleet day at Portsmouth if the Prince Rupert Port Day committee is successful in enticing all the naval ships they desire here on Port Day, August 26. So far,

The Collector of Customs at Juneau, James J. Connors, has been advised from Washington that Canadian fishing vessels, engaged in the north Pacific halibut fisheries only may land catches of sable fish, halibut and black cod at Customs ports of entry in Alaska, upon compliance with the applicable Customs laws. This special law is to remain in effect only during the period July 1 to and including December 31, 1948. The Customs ports of entry in Alaska where this applies are Juneau, Ketchikan, Sitka, Petersburg, Wrangell, Skagway, Craig and Hyder. When brought in by Canadian ships halibut is dutiable at half a cent a pound and sable fish and black cod a cent a pound.

The committee has sent feelers out to Esquimalt to have H.M.S. Sheffield, flagship of the British West Indies squadron, come here with an escort of at least one Canadian ship. In addition, three American destroyers have scheduled visits for August 27 and the committee is taking steps to have them advance their arrival time by one day so that they may be present during the annual marine celebration.

At present the financial section of the Port Day committee is embarked on a canvass of city business places to raise funds for prizes for the competitive events. Harold Heigerson is chairman of the finance committee.

Bella Coola and Rivers Inlet have been the most productive areas in the current gillnet sockeye fishing this week. Catches on the Skeena have been relatively small, although under the influence of brighter weather, they have improved over the opening week of the season.

The fisheries patrol craft, Kitimaat recently destroyed a drifting mine a mile west of Sea Otter Cove on the northern end of the west coast of Vancouver Island. The Kitimaat exploded the mine lying on the beach after scoring twelve direct hits from a rifle. It was the thirteenth that turned the trick. The mine was a four-horned one, three feet in diameter.

The officers of H.M.C.S. Antigonish, which was in Juneau over the Fourth of July, entertained at a cocktail party on the afterdeck of the Canadian warship on Tuesday evening. Honored guests included Governor and Mrs. Gruening, Mayor

EVERYTHING HASN'T RAISED IN PRICE . . .

• It may surprise many but 1847 Rogers and Community Silver flatware is the same price as before the war.

And as the tax is now off it should be doubly attractive.

Bulger's always sell standard goods at Canadian advertised prices even though express charges are more than those of places nearer to the factories.

For instance a Big Ben clock or set of silver sells for the same price as in Ontario where it is made.

A large part of our stock is made up of standard advertised goods and we try to keep the balance in line with the prices of other cities. And we guarantee the satisfaction of our goods.

Something from Bulger's is always something worth having.
