SPORTS

HE'S JUST A CHIP OFF THE OLD "STICK"—To emulate father is the goal of Les Anning, junior, 17-months-old son of Les Anning. Father and son are pictured here as they practised to-ing, right winger (from Ottawa), of the Wembley Lions ice-hockey team. Sport Shots

It's slightly out of season in Canada but Vince (Winnipeg Tribune) Leah provides some interesting sidebars on soccer, which in this country has a reputation as being one of the few "gentlemanly" sports left. He calls South Americans "fanatical" enthusiasts and says they top the list in passion for soccer. Recently, feelings became so intense at one match the contest was called after 11 minutes of play. The police had been forced to cloud the premises with team gas to clear the riotous crowd. "Allan Anderson, former golf expert (with the Tribune), was doing a government chore in S.A. during the war... he found the brand of ball very good, but what amazed him was the barbed wire entanglements outside the touchlines to keep the customers off the referee's neck.

"In 1936, Peru's good team was locked in a death-and-life struggle with Australia in Olympic soccer at Berlin. The count was 2-2 at the end of regulation time and the officials ordered an extra period. The Peruvians... declined with thanks."

The news was cabled back to Lima and the hometown followers became so incensed that they pelleted the German legation with rocks, stones and spoiled fruit. The city fathers practically had to declare martial law to restore order.

A special soccer series between two arch rivals, Uruguay and Argentina, probably holds the record for all-time high in blood-letting.

FATTENING THE VICTIM—This kindly gesture may boomerang on Britain's light-heavyweight Champion Freddie Mills when he meets Joe Maxim, the American titleholder, in a match for the world championship on Jan. 24. Mills is shown feeding his forthcoming opponent to a generous portion of food while lunching in London.
