Case of The Missing Books

The yearly June problem of missing text books was again brought to the attention of the Prince Rupert Public School Board at a meeting Wednesday night. A letter from A. M. Hurst, principal of Booth, informed the board that books, amounting to $43.71 were missing. Of course, he added, some of these will undoubtedly turn up during the year.

The board felt that no matter what type of legislation governing the lending of books was put into effect some would be missing by the end of a school term. The letter was tabled.
