STUDENTS LOSE

Gordon and Anderson Take First Victory of Season Off High School

G. & H. 16; HIGH SCHOOL 9
Gordon and Anderson made a belated entry into the realities of fastball Saturday night when they took their first victory of the season from High School by a score of 16-9 at Gyro Park in the City League.

For the students it terminated a series-within-a-series in which they played four games straight and muffed a chance to tie 99 Taxi for top position in the league. The four games were encounters which had been postponed for various reasons earlier in the season.

As it was, the High School lads won two of the games and lost two to give them a tie spot with Co-op for third and second last, position in the league.

To Gordon and Anderson, the victory was literally a black-letter occasion for it put them on the credit side of the league standing for the first time in five games. Although they are still at the bottom of the closely-bunched league, they nevertheless have one game to their credit.

For the merchants it was not a game without cost, as Bob Moxley, G. & A. pitcher could painfully testify. Moxley caught a line drive in the face in the fourth inning, damaging his teeth and putting him out of the game. He was relieved by Whatman, who moved in from right field to the mound.

High School made a strong start, building up a lead of 4-0 in the first two innings, but in the third, G. & A. brought in three runs off three hits to trail by a single run until the fifth when they climbed ahead on the basis of six runs brought in off High School Pitcher Forbes.

The Merchants brought in another three in the sixth and four more in the seventh to bring the score to 16.

High School came alive in the sixth again to clout in three runs off Whatman and added two more in the seventh but they were so far behind by that time that there was little hope of victory.

Both sides employed two pitchers. Moxley struck out four, walked six and allowed two hits in his four innings on the mound, while Whatman struck out three, walked six and allowed seven hits in the remaining four innings.

For High School, Forbes struck out two, walked two and allowed 10 hits in five innings, while Spring, who relieved him, struck out three, walked four and allowed six hits.

Off to Camp

First Party of Boys Leaves For Interior

A carefree special pulled away from the bus depot shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning on a charter trip to Lakelse Lake. Long before the bus was due to leave, boys from every part of the city were piling their suitcases and duffle bags in the family car or packing them along the Sunday-deserted streets to the rendezvous.

Twenty-four boys had been notified they were to leave Sunday for a 10-day stay at the Kinsmen Kiddie Kamp and 24 boys were aboard when the bus left. Each passenger had the necessary camp equipment such as blankets, towels, bathing suits, toilet articles and extra clothing and many of them had luxury luggage such as fishing rods and cameras.

Although rain was showering Prince Rupert as the expedition got under way it did not affect the boys' high spirits. R. G. Moore and Stan Saville acted as tour conductors and stops were made at several places along the highway where objects of special interest were pointed out.

At Terrace everyone de-bussed for coffee or coke before making the last lap to the lake shore where they were met by the camp supervisor, Leonard Casey, George Dobb and Russell Cameron. With the camp boats the whole party were ferried up the lake to the camp site where Mrs. Casey had a fine meal prepared for the boys.

The sun was bright in a cloudless sky when the party arrived at the lake and the campers were looking forward to a cooling plunge in Lakelse water.

Hotel Men Strengthen Hold on League Leadership

SAVOYS 11; MERCHANTS 3

Savoys strengthened their hold on City Baseball League leadership Sunday afternoon at Roosevelt Park when they clouted Merchant pitcher George Eliuk for an 11-3 victory, their second successive win since the resumption of schedule play last Thursday.

To Jack Lindsay, Savoy pitcher, went the honor for the Savoy triumph, as well as the glory of the highest batting record of the game. In five times at bat he made three hits, two of them triples, to bring in two runs.

Savoys readily overcame an initial Merchant lead by taking advantage of errors which cost the Merchants four runs in the second inning, only two of them off hits.

Merchants had scored two runs in the second inning, Linney and Dominato, both off singles, and their final run came in the sixth when Cliff Dahl got on base after being hit by a pitched ball and was brought in by Linney.

Eliuk held the hotelmen hitless during the third and fourth innings but, in the sixth, they began a scoring rampage that lasted until the ninth and marked up seven runs for a total score of 11. Four of the Savoy runs resulted directly from Merchant errors.

In the sixth, Morgan got a base on balls and was scored when Bill got to first on an error by Hartwig who fumbled a grounder by Alex Bill. Gurvich, who singled, scored when Eliuk made a bad throw in an attempt to catch Bill on his way to second.

Savoys' only run in the seventh was scored by Lindsay who hit a triple and came home on a bad throw from second by Cliff Dahl. Two of the four runs scored by Savoy in the eighth were made off errors by Merchants.

In nine innings, Lindsay faced 36 batters, striking out 11 and allowing eight hits. Eliuk faced 37 in eight innings, striking out three and allowing 9 hits. Dahl, who relieved him in the ninth, struck out one and allowed one hit.

Sport Shots

Tension in London sports circles is increasing and pen thrusts by some sports writers are sharpening as the days tick by to Britain's greatest athletic blowout in 40 years—the July 29-August 14 Olympic Games. It all doesn't tend to further international amity, supposed key-note of the Games. For instance, John Robertson, columnist with the weekly Sporting Record, isn't a mite impressed—is even doubtful—with what he terms those "fantastic" track and field record times by United States athletes from "California, Chicago or Cincinnati." "Shucks," he says, "there's no need to treat the Yankees as 'demi-gods.'"

In the same issue, Lord Aberdare, member of the Organizing Olympic Committee takes a rap closer home—at "certain British sports writers" who "misinterpret" and show "hostility towards international sport." Various writers have gone on record with the declaration Britain isn't ready to stage the Games and that British athletes are going to take a fearful beating. Lord Aberdare finds it "distressing" to read such articles and wonders if "people abroad believe we have lost our love of sport and that sense of fair play which has in the past been so closely associated with the British race."

But it is Robertson who has directed a few well-aimed barbs at the United States. "There is a touch of intimidation about these American figures and it is only fair to point out that, if present weather conditions persist, some of the Yankee athletes may look very common clay in our rain and mist (next July and August). We know well enough that the United States will win a big percentage of the events—on a population basis that stands to reason—but there is no need to treat them as demi-gods," he advised his readers.

Robertson said Britain should send its best coaches to the Dominions and colonies and, if public contributions are not sufficient, the government ought to finance an Empire scheme to discover talent "in the backwoods." This suggestion, he realizes, is too late to be of any value this year, "but it is worth bearing in mind, for British athletic prestige is in serious danger and only co-operation can put us back in the saddle."

Then, to explode the "myth" that Britain will go away empty-handed from the "hectic" Olympic scene, Robertson climbs out on a limb with these predictions: Glasgow's 19-year-old, six-foot-six Alan Paterson will win the high jump; Maureen Gardner, 18-year-old Oxford ballet dancer will take the 80-yard hurdles, and British champion Mrs. Winifred Jordan the 129-mile run.
